Destroyer to Put Out From French Port to Halt Liner and Bring Back Morse

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The justice department was understood today to have asked the navy department to send a destroyer to intercept the French liner Paris, which left New York last Friday.

While neither Atty. Gen. Daugherty nor other justice department high officials would discuss the reported departure, it was learned that every agency of the government would be used in effecting his return to this country.

The department's request for assistance from the navy department was understood to be on the theory that the legal questions involved in the return of Morse would be thrashed out when he was brought back. Immediately upon receipt of the report that Morse had left the country the department was understood to have radioed the liner Paris to hold Morse for return to America.

Sailed Last Friday
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Joseph Bourgeois, publicity director of the French line, today confirmed reports that Charles W. Morse, whose shipping contracts are said to be under investigation by federal authorities, sailed for Havre, France, last Friday on the liner Paris. He said he was at the gangway of the steamer and personally examined the passports which had been issued to Mr. Morse.

He said Mr. Morse occupied stateroom No. 233, which had been made out to "C. Morse."

Members of Mr. Morse's family here would neither confirm nor deny the report that he had sailed. They said they believed he was either at Washington or at New London, Conn.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—A receivership for Germany as a bankrupt, with an autonomous Rhineland to be exploited by the allies for reparations purposes, is likely to be proposed by France as an alternative to any moratorium on reparations that may be suggested by Great Britain, it was said in official circles here today.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press.) The possibility of renewed bloodshed in Ireland stares the British Isles in the face in consequence of the virtual collapse of the peace negotiations which have preceded under a truce for the last five months.

The Sinn Fein has stood firm on its demand for an all-Ireland parliament as the basis of settlement, at the same time refusing to concede allegiance to the British crown. Ulster has refused pointblank to scrap her own parliament to enter an all-Ireland parliament "under present conditions" on the ground that she would thereby come directly under the control of the numerically superior south.

The latest plan, that for an all-Ireland, continued on Page Three

ATTACKS ANTI-BEER LAW

St. Louis Files Suit, Declares
Law Passed Nov. 28 Unconstitutional

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 1.—A suit attacking the anti-beer law as unconstitutional has been filed in federal court by the Falstaff corporation, a local brewery.

Attorneys for the brewery declare in their petition that it was not the purpose of congress to prohibit the use of liquor for non-heretofore purposes as is evidenced by the wording of the title of the national prohibition act. They also quote the opinion rendered by former Attorney General Palmer permitting beer for medicinal purposes.

The brewery was granted a permit to manufacture medicinal beer on November 3 and manufacture was begun soon afterward, the petition states, with orders from a large number of druggists and physicians. On November 28, the anti-beer bill was passed by congress and two days later the brewery was ordered to stop making beer.

LOWELL TELEGRAPH SERVICE

11:30 a. m.—The Postal Telegraph Co. was the first to recover two circuits to Boston out of forty-eight which they have lost resultant from storm damage. One of these circuits will be placed immediately at the disposal of patrons in the vicinity of Lowell, and the remaining circuit will be used to meet a demand for service south and west of Lowell and it is expected that by tonight additional wires will be available.

Patrons are requested to file their telegraphic communications as early in the day as possible, thereby assisting the Postal Co. in keeping these circuits clear.

MISS BUTLER
CROSS-EXAMINED

Counsel for Gomes Inquired
Minutely Into Circumstances of Alleged Assault

Sought to Cast Doubt on Girl's Identification of His Client

NEW BEDFORD, Dec. 1.—Miss Gertrude Butler resumed the stand this morning in the trial of the assault and robbery cases against Gomes, Dies and Andrews. She was cross-examined at great length by E. H. Jourdain, counsel for Gomes, who inquired minutely into the circumstances of the alleged assault by his client, and who sought to cast a doubt upon her identification of Gomes at Wareham as one of the three men concerned in the affair. The witness said she identified Gomes by his hair, which was thick, his manner of speech, and his dirty white sneakers. She admitted that on the night of the alleged assault, Gomes' face was covered by a handkerchief except when he lifted it to smoke, but she stuck to her identification of him.

WOMAN SWEEPED FROM THIRD BALCONY

Mrs. Margarette Boutin, aged 61 years and residing at 711 Lakeview, considers it almost a miracle that she is alive today, for late yesterday afternoon she was thrown to the ground from a third story balcony of her home by a snow slide. Shortly after the accident Dr. G. O. Lavelle was summoned and after a thorough examination found there were no bones broken, but that the woman was suffering from bad bruises only and that her condition was not serious.

The accident occurred while Mrs. Boutin was hanging clothes on the line from the balcony. The snow and ice on the adjoining building loosened up suddenly and came down with a crash, striking the balcony upon which Mrs. Boutin was standing, tearing it away. The building from which the snow slide occurred is owned by Napoleon Guenette of Lawrence.

MEETING POSTPONED

Storm Causes Loss of Thousands of Dollars to Retail Business

The severe storm which hit Lowell last Sunday at noon and held the city in its grip for four days, not only crippled lighting, telephone and city service, but injured retail business to the extent of thousands of dollars. The Merrimack Clothing Co., 100 City Hall, probably suffered the greatest loss.

This store has been running a series of sales since Friday and Saturday, offering the public exceptional money-saving opportunities for these two days. Last week they had planned the greatest offering of the entire season, hundreds of men's and boys' winter overcoats were purchased at reduced prices for this great event. The storm came, business was crippled and the store suffered thousands of dollars' loss in business, leaving a tremendous stock of coats on their hands unsold in order to dispose of these coats quickly the Merrimack decided to offer them to the public Friday and Saturday this week at prices less than the cost of manufacturing. Their advertisement appears on page 11 of this paper and every man and boy in Lowell needing an overcoat should read it. And if you're at all thrifty, you'll buy your overcoat at the Merrimack Friday or Saturday.

There are also several other money-saving opportunities in Ladies' Wear, including Apparel and Men's Furnishings offered for these two days. The store is open Friday nights till 11 o'clock for your convenience.—ADV.

Mayor Thompson
Makes Statement

Mayor Perry D. Thompson today, to a representative of The Sun, spoke in the highest terms of the individual efforts of citizens and the co-ordinated work of the local public utilities corporations in battling against the storm which has left the city in perhaps the worst plight in its history.

"Not only has everything possible been done to correct unusual conditions," said the mayor, "but with all the inconvenience which has been caused, people have been very patient and considerate of the task which confronted the street railway company, the electric light company and telephone company and have made the best of a most vexing situation. It has been a splendid spirit of community co-operation and to me, as the official head of the city, it has been most gratifying."

RIOTING BREAKS OUT IN VIENNA

Serious Outbreaks Follow Great Demonstration Before Parliament Building

Red Flags Raised—Windows
Smashed and Shops Looted
—Hotels Attacked

VIENNA, Dec. 1. (By the Associated Press.)—Rioting of a serious nature broke out in Vienna today, following a great demonstration before the parliament building, where red flags were raised on masts. The crowds then began smashing windows and looting shops dealing in articles of luxury. Large crowds also attacked a number of fashionable hotels, most of which being those where foreigners reside. The New Bristol was the first of these hostilities to be assaulted. Its great doors were battered down, thus permitting the crowds to pour through into the building. They began to break windows, some of which were as high as the third floor, and to hurl bedding and furniture into the crowd in the street below.

The Old Bristol hotel later suffered the same fate. Its costly furniture and rich tapestries being hurled out to the cheering crowds which packed the streets surrounding the building.

The Grand hotel, the largest in the city, and then in turn the Hotel Imperial also were looted. The activities in these hotels, however, appeared to have been confined to the lower floors.

The Vienna police were apparently helpless, many squads of them being seen standing quietly by as onlookers.

Plenty of sunshine and more normal temperatures helped today to bring back some semblance of fairly normal street and railway conditions in Lowell and vicinity. The other side of the picture shows no encouraging change from the shadow of disaster, however, though the big lighting and power companies and the New England Telephone company are still fighting along the same old battle front of breakdowns, broken wires and levelled poles.

Little real progress in wire repairs can be reported today, although the march toward semi-normality is going along without a let-up and we greet handicaps were met today to prevent continuance of the work of restoring lights, phones and power to the thousands of customers who are patiently waiting.

Thousands of broken wires remain to be gathered up and spliced, and thousands of poles must be reset or replaced by new ones before anything like service can be resumed in the districts now without lights and power.

The telephone service is still handicapped by the same troubles yesterday and the day before. Manager Leathers, of the company, said he couldn't give anybody the slightest idea when normal conditions would prevail. The big army of workmen have only just started untangling the meshed lines that lie on the ground everywhere about the city and suburbs.

There is no service to Worcester or the west, and not even a connection toward Framingham or a town as close as Acton. The main trunk lines have not been touched yet, so much work is there to do untangling broken wires and sorting out the main lines in order to get them were they belong.

The toll lines must be opened up, for it is just as important for Lowell to have outside communication with all other cities in the state and the country.

POSITIONS ON BALLOT AT CITY ELECTION

The drawing for position on the ballot at the city election, necessary on account of the provision of the new charter which abolishes the custom of printing the names in alphabetical order, will be held in the aldermanic chamber at city hall at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. The election commissioning listed all candidates to this effect today. This drawing would have been held earlier if it were not for the recount, which has taken up the commissioning time for several days, and the printer is already clamoring for his copy in order to start printing the ballots.

The time allowed for filing of expenses of all candidates in the recent primaries expires tomorrow, and to date but three candidates have complied with the law in this respect. George H. Brown spent $37.15 for advertising, with no other expense; William F. Newhall, candidate for school committee, spent $10 for printing; and Michael J. Mahoney, for councilor-at-large, had an advertising bill of $15.

A bill from the lands and buildings department for $321 has been received by the election commission. This sum is for labor during the month of November. In the previous month the bill for similar services amounted to $520.

Enright in district court today that he impose a heavy sentence on Abel Oliver of Elm street, who was arraigned for illegal keeping of intoxicating liquor. The justice immediately pronounced a term of five months to the house of correction and a fine of $50, to which the defendant appealed. The court set bail at $500.

Oliver pleaded guilty to the keeping charge, but stoutly denied, when closely quizzed by police and court, that he was receiving money from any liquor "gang" or that he had been hired to act as their liquor manufacturing and distributing agent in this section. He said he was making the

FLEAS DRAIN

TRAINER'S LIFE

BY N. E. A. SERVICE

SANTO MONICA, Dec. 1.—For many years John Ruhl offered himself as a living meal for hundreds of fleas—one bite of which throws the average man into tantrums. He fed them from the blood of his arm. The result is a reputation of Ruhl's as an expert on the flea, and a diagnosis of some physicians is correct. John Ruhl is the only flea-trainer in the world. His father and his father's father were flea-trainers before him. The work requires kindly treatment of the insects, careful feeding and infinite patience.

Before his sickness, Ruhl owned about 500 fleas. He fed each by placing it on his left arm. This meant a loss of about 60 drops of blood daily. The effect was gradually devastating over a period of 20 years.

Immediately after catching a California sand-flea Ruhl ties a small silver wire around his neck, barely perceptible to the eye but which twice as much as the insect, so it can be handled. By continual repetition the flea soon learns to dance, pull tiny objects, juggle a ball, turn merry-go-rounds, or jump through a hoop.

Ruhl believes there is no more intelligent lower creature in the world than a flea. Three weeks or less are all that is required to train one for a particular stunt. And within that time it also learns to answer to its name.

Ruhl intends to resume his flea-training once he leaves the sanatorium and regains a measure of his lost health.

CORRECTION

A typographical error in Monday's paper made it appear that George Handis, of Lewis street, was fined $25 by Judge Pickman in district court for illegal keeping of intoxicating liquor. It should have read $125, instead of $25.

RELIEVING THE DARKNESS

BY MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—She rather loves it, and she's making the most of it—this black material, which has taken hold of the whole fashion world—but somewhere in the voluminous heart of mildy is a longing for something colorful, oh, so colorful! So vivid! Something to give relief to the darkness of her gown.

And so she evolved the fascinating trick of lining the skirts of her black gowns.

Jagged, scalloped, hem of velvet costumes reveal the lightest colors imaginable—most of them in crisp taffetas.

This latest gown in black velvet, short at the front and back and hanging in gracefully graceful folds at the sides, is lined with a very taffeta.

A cluster of lovely flowers at the low, draped waistline that the fashion-finding covers at the hem.

The bottom is a soft, shimmering line of only half-sizzled lines and curves—gloriously attractive.

Further Recovery in German Marks

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—German marks underwent further recovery on the London exchange market today. Heavy buying sent the rate to 750 to the pound sterling, against yesterday's close of 980. Profit-taking sales by speculators who bought at the highest figure caused occasional reactions but purchases predominated. The recovery was assisted by optimism regarding the negotiations now proceeding between Dr. Walter Rathenau, former German minister of reconstruction, and the financial heads of the British government, in regard to Germany's forthcoming reparations payments, and the possibility of a moratorium.

No Word From Relief Lightship

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—The lighthouse tender Azalea was bound for Nantucket shoals today to find out why the relief lightship stationed there has not been heard from for several days. There was no anxiety over Captain Arthur L. Perry and his 10 men, it was stated at Lighthouse headquarters here. The trouble was believed to be with the radio equipment rather than with the vessel itself. The fact that the steamship Oscar II reported that the lightship was not seen on her station last Sunday, was considered without significance in view of the fact that no other of the many vessels passing the station daily had reported her missing since.

TO PROBE

ANCIENT MYSTERY

(By N.E.A. Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—The jungle hidden temple of Ankor Wat once more is to be asked to reveal secrets buried through the centuries in its fast crumbling ruins.

Joseph Lindon Smith, Egyptologist and painter, sailed from here recently to penetrate the forests and jungles of Siam, 1000 miles down the Mekong river, where this monster temple of the world rises from the swamp to face historians and science with a mystery as impenetrable as the Sphinx. Smith is making the trip to the Boston Museum and the architectural department of Harvard University.

Baffling Clues

Even though he may fail to find any new clue to one of the most baffling mysteries of the human race,

JOSEPH LINDON SMITH.

Smith will bring out exact reproductions of every section of the temple's remains for study by architectural classes with a view of tracing the identity of the builders through the style of modeling used.

"The mystery presented through the ages by this temple," Smith explains, "is why built it, why did they select this dismal swamp country to build it in and, finally, what became of them?"

Oldest Pilgrims

Such research as has been made indicates, he says that some religious sect faced with persecution fled like the Pilgrim fathers to some far away place where they might worship as they pleased. The nationality of this sect can be only conjectured. They might have fled from India, from some section of Siam or from Java, or any one of a dozen places. It is the theory that they selected this swamp-land, jungle site because of the better opportunities for defense. Only small boats can penetrate these waters. It is further believed that the entire sect was wiped out by some swamp-bred epidemic.

The temple is declared to be the largest in existence and indicates the work of several thousand industrious people says Smith. Because of its inaccessibility it is little known and seldom visited. Disintegration has been caused chiefly by trees growing through its walls and merging it with the jungle.

THEY WANT TO KNOW HOW TO DO IT

The fame of Lowell's suburban day sales have spread far and wide and the success with which they have been carried on has led other towns to investigate just how it is done. A few days ago the local chamber of commerce received a request from the Melrose chamber asking that some member be sent down to explain the proposition to Melrose people.

Secretary Wells decided that Assistant Secretary Edward W. Gallagher was as familiar with the topic as anyone and delegated him to the task. Mr. Gallagher will give his talk, today before a representative body of Melrose people. He will show the procedure necessary for the institution of a suburban day and the best manner in which to work up the details which go with it.

At the present time Melrose has a dollar day the same as Lowell, but the success of suburban day here was carried south which provoked the request for more knowledge of it.

Deaf people will have special churches in Germany with telephones between the priest and news.

a considerable section of the British press. It is suggested that this be achieved through adjournment of the conference to a fixed date a month or six weeks hence.

The Sinn Féin publicity department reiterated this forenoon that it expects further meetings between the government and the Sinn Féin delegates, and it is believed arrangements regarding the truce will be considered at the next meeting.

The original truce terms provided no plan for its cessation, and it is felt, it is said, that even if it develops that hostilities must be renewed provision should be made fixing a definite date for abandonment of the pact instead of letting the truce break down without notice which has been considered in many quarters the probable outcome.

Attacks Craik's Speech

DUBLIN, Dec. 30. (By the Associated Press.)—The Irish Bulletin, the organ of the Daily Express, declares that Sir James Craik's speech reflecting the British government's proposals for an Irish settlement belongs not to the 20th century but to the days of feudalism. The Ulster premier, however, is logical, according to the Bulletin, and is only executing the British policy.

"The Belfast parliament was created to destroy Irish unity," the Bulletin continues, "and the speeches in that parliament yesterday were merely an endeavor to carry this purely British policy for a British purpose into effect. Peace is to be made impossible rather than the fact of Ireland's geographical, economic, traditional, historical and political unity should be admitted."

De Valera Blames Opponents

ENNIS, Ireland, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Eamon de Valera yesterday delivered an address in the town hall here in which he declared if peace in Ireland was not brought about it would not be because "there is not the will on the part of Ireland to make it, but because those opposed to us in Ireland do not want to make peace with us."

"I may tell you," Mr. de Valera continued, "that we stand today, no matter what other peoples say, exactly where we stood, and for the principles for which we stood, four years ago. We have gone as far as we can go, consistent with those principles, for peace; we cannot, and will not, go any further. If we go further it would be for us to betray those principles which have been fought for by generations of Irishmen for the past 600 or 700 years."

Mr. de Valera had an enthusiastic reception. He spoke with great firmness when he declared that "all the powers of the empire cannot break the spirit of one true nation."

"We waited the cost four or five years ago," he continued, "and you who have had the experience of those years assuredly will not suggest that anybody having charge of the direction of affairs, or who holds the standard you entrusted to them, should for a moment give away our principles. We stand on the rock of truth and principle and will face the future with the same confidence and knowledge as we faced our work four years ago."

WHY HURRY?

Redwing was tired. And he was way ahead of the others. So what was the use of jumping the fence when he could walk over it? Walter Stokes, his rider, felt the same way about it. This freak photograph shows how Redwing won the three-and-a-half-mile cross country run at Radnor Hunt, Philadelphia.

WORLD CONFERENCE OF IRISH RACE JAN. 21

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The world conference of the Irish race to be held in Paris January 21, will bring together representatives of some of the leading families of France, Spain, Italy, Russia, Austria, the Argentine, and other South American countries, the ancestors of whom were Irish. These families migrated from Ireland as early as the 13th century and became nationals of the various countries, although frequently retaining their Irish name.

All the Irish race organizations of the world will send delegates and President de Valera of the Irish republic has promised to attend. An exhibition of Irish art will form part of the meeting.

It is estimated that there are 25,000,000 persons of Irish origin scattered throughout the world. The secretariat of the conference in Paris is working hard to reach the descendants of Irish families. Several hundred Americans whose ancestors were of Irish descent will attend. While there are to be only 200 accredited delegates, several thousand persons are expected in Paris for the week's meeting. The convention will mark the re-anniversary of an event which until the 13th century was an important yearly feature of Irish life. The last one was held in Ireland in the 14th century.

The cultural revival of Irish art and literature is the chief purpose of the convention. It is purely educational in character and in no way is connected with the Sinn Féin movement or Irish political hopes.

The renaissance of Gaelic culture has, in the opinion of those arranging the conference, received great impetus within the last 20 years, although little has been heard of this rebirth outside of Ireland. One of the aims of the conference is to inform those of Irish origin how far this revival has gone and to interest them in encouraging and furthering Irish art, literature and drama throughout the world.

The invitations to the "Aonac" or convention have been sent by Mr. de Valera, himself. Fourteen of the largest countries of the world have already responded and will be represented by nationals of Irish ancestry.

Special trains can be hired in England at a cost of $5 a mile.

SHANTUNG CONTROVERSY

Offer of U. S. and Britain to Use "Good Offices" Accepted by Japan and China

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Bringing with it some of the sharpest issues of world diplomacy, the celebrated Shantung controversy took its place yesterday at the arms conference.

The result was an offer by the United States and Great Britain, accepted promptly by Japan and China to assume the role of friendly advisers in a new attempt to solve the problem and end the long and bitter debate that has swept over three continents. The plan for an exercise of American and British "good offices" is understood to have originated with the American delegation after it became apparent that China had resolved to raise the question in the conference proper. Secretary Hughes and Arthur J. Balfour, as respective heads of the American and British groups, will meet tomorrow with the Japanese and Chinese to lay the basis for the negotiations.

On the eve of the first meeting the Chicago delegates announced last night they would go into the discussion prepared to accept nothing less than an unconditional withdrawal of the Japanese claims in Shantung. The attitude of Japan was not set forth so explicitly, but it was assumed the Japanese spokesmen would contend for the reservations insisted on in the recent diplomatic exchange between Tokyo and Peking.

The advent of the Shantung question at the council table followed on the heels of a debate on the general subject of maintenance of foreign troops within Chinese borders, which in itself had brought the conference to a consideration of some of the serious factors in Sino-Japanese relations. Speaking for Japan, Vice Foreign Minister Ishihara declared withdrawal of the Japanese troops from several parts of China could be Shantung most vital to Japanese interests. He said the Chinese authorities would take more effective steps to maintain order.

At Balfour, said the Japanese delegates, repeated disorders had justified Japan in keeping her troops where they now are stationed. He declared the new armistice in North China was being made under special authorization of the League of Nations, and that the Sino-Japanese railway agreement of 1915, the willingness of Japan to withdraw her troops from Shantung her general was dependent on the establishment of an acceptable Chinese police force.

As a result of the discussion the conference postponed its decision until the next meeting on Friday. Among the American delegates the belief last night was that some general declaration of principle might be adopted, pending further the opinion of the powers that all foreign troops on Chinese soil without treaty sanction should be withdrawn as soon as conditions warrant.

JAPAN FOR 70 P. C. RATIO

Delegates Formally Submit Counter Proposal on Naval Limitation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Japan's proposal for a 70 per cent. fleet, as necessary to her national security instead of a 60 per cent. fleet, has formally been presented to the United States and Great Britain.

Baron Admiral Kato, senior Japanese delegate, has communicated it personally to Secretary Hughes and Arthur J. Balfour. It is said in Japanese quarters to have the full support of the Japanese cabinet and the diplomatic advisory council at Tokyo.

American and British naval experts, standing together on Secretary Hughes "5-5-3" plan as the only one fair to all powers, regarded the Japanese proposal as wholly unacceptable.

In the opinion of some of the American delegates the situation is delicate but not without hope that the Japanese ultimately will accept the original plan.

The seriousness of the turn of affairs, in the opinion of the Americans, that Japan in persisting in her request for "10-10-7" ratio makes a stroke at the fundamental idea on which Secretary Hughes' proposal is based.

Japan's proposal, it was disclosed, was based not on a calculation of the strength of the existing American, British and Japanese fleets but upon her estimate of necessity for national security. It was pointed out among the Americans and British that if consideration were to be substituted for a continuation of fleets at reduced tonnage but in the same ratio as now exists, the whole basis of the conference would be upset.

On the basis of national security, it was said, neither the United States nor Great Britain would agree to the 60 per cent. ratio which the Hughes plan would allow to Japan.

Secretary Hughes and his three colleagues of the American delegation spent nearly three hours last night debating the situation. Herebefore the Japanese claim had been made only informally in the sub-committee of naval experts.

Baron Kato's action swept away at once the deliberations of the experts considering the American limitation plan. They have had to do only with technical questions of tonnage estimates involved in the American proposal to limit fleets on the basis of existing relative strength in capital ships. Japan has now taken the matter out of that field entirely.

British experts are in full accord with America that the "5-5-3" proposal is the only possible road to an agreement that is fair to all powers, particularly in view of the enormous disproportion of the sacrifices in ships and money the United States has offered to undertake. The two powers are agreed also, that previous efforts of the Japanese to have their claim for 70 per cent. on a calculation of existing strength which would exclude ships under construction are not within the scope of argument.

CONCERT IN AID OF CHRISTMAS TREE FUND

The Broadway Social and Athletic club, which for the past several years has conducted Christmas tree exercises for the children of the Acre district, expects to make this year's affair the biggest and best on record. In order to raise funds for the tree exercises a big concert and dancing party will be held in Associate Hall tomorrow evening and the entire proceeds will be turned over to the committee in charge of the Christmas feature. Among the talent listed to perform tomorrow night are several of the city's most noted singers and dancers. They include Edward Donohoe, Sadie Sheehan, Patrick Maguire, Mary Conway, James Delgan, the Dion sisters and Fred Cummings. The concert will start at 8 o'clock, after which there will be general dancing.

TO CALL FOR NEW BIDS

$8,000,000 Bond Issue Offered by Chicago Was Taken From Market Today

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—An $8,000,000 bond issue offered by the city two weeks ago to meet a deficit in the city's revenues in 1920, was taken from the market today when a lone bid was withdrawn.

A syndicate headed by the Guaranty Trust company of New York, offered approximately $8,570,000 on the condition that the legality of the issue be approved within 10 days. When this was not done the bid was withdrawn.

New bids will be called for, Controller Harding announced.

AN APPRECIATION

Now that the first stunning shock, caused by her sudden yet beautiful death, has somewhat worn off, it seems most becoming that I should make public expression of the profound grief and deep sense of loss felt by the many teachers, children and janitors of the Abraham Lincoln school at the passing of their friend and teacher, Alice Murphy. To those who knew her or were acquainted with her, her death came as a terrible blow, and the thought that she is gone forever from class-room, from playground, and from home, causes the eyes to fill and the heart strings to tighten.

Alice Murphy came to the Abraham Lincoln school in September, 1920. From the start, because of her professional ability and her musical talent, she proved a splendid addition to the teaching force. She was never ostentatious but she was ever smiling, courteous and ready to help, in school and out of school. Despite her frail health, she wore well. She threw herself heart and soul into her school work, and whether it was in the class-room, or at the piano in the school entertainment, or on the playground, or rooting for the school baseball team on the common, she gave all she had and a little more.

The loss of such a friend and a teacher we mourn today, and we shall mourn it for many a year. We have paid our last sorrowful tribute to her school work, and whether it was in the class-room, or at the piano in the school entertainment, or on the playground, or rooting for the school baseball team on the common, she gave all she had and a little more.

We have paid our last sorrowful tribute to her school work, and whether it was in the class-room, or at the piano in the school entertainment, or on the playground, or rooting for the school baseball team on the common, she gave all she had and a little more.

"Well done, thou good and faithful servant; enter ye into eternal rest."

FOREIGN EXCHANGE IN VIENNA DEMORALIZED

VIENNA, Nov. 30.—Semi-official statements today indicating that abandonment of government control over food and abolition of all government subsidies would be effected with the new year, foreign exchange became demoralized. The crown went from 7126 to 5500 for the dollar, both banks and individuals engaging in a scramble for foreign values. Stocks meanwhile dropped sharply. The bank rate was raised one per cent. to eight per cent.

Figures issued today showed that the cost of living had increased 211 per cent. in the past month. All classes of wage earners are formulating new demands to meet the increasingly pressing economic situation, to comply with which the only apparent measures possible are new currency issues.

HARVARD DRAMATIC CLUB

The Harvard Dramatic club opened its season last month with the first performance of its 23rd production at Brattle hall, Cambridge, before a highly enthusiastic audience. The plays which were presented are: "The Love of the Moor," a one-act drama by Francis Coppée, and "The Witch's Mountain," a three-act play by one of the best known Argentine playwrights, Julio Sanchez Gardel. The Pierian Sodality gave an interesting musical program and dancing followed. The performance is in every detail identical with the one to be given in Lowell at the Opera house, Monday evening, December 5, for the benefit of the Radcliffe Alumnae fund. Professor George T. Baker of "47 Workshop" fame and the Radcliffe undergraduates, particularly members of the Idler club, have contributed notably to the success of the production. The scenery, costumes, posters, have all been designed and executed by the undergraduates themselves. The posters, which are now on exhibition at some of the principal stores in the city, are attracting considerable attention by their striking and artistic appearance. After an unusually severe competition among more than fifty contestants, many of whom have had considerable experience on the professional stage, a splendid cast has been chosen, comprised of Harvard and Radcliffe undergraduates. The Harvard Dramatic club has had a long and brilliant career in prize production, and this performance promises to be even to surpass previous ones. From the advance sale of tickets at the Opera House and Prince-Walters Run- gallow Shop, the Lowell Radcliffe Alumnae are anticipating an exceptionally successful production.

NAVAL LIMITATION PLAN

Situation Resulting From Japan's Proposal Regarded as a Delicate One

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The situation resulting from Japan's formal proposal that the 60 per cent. naval ratio allotted her under the American limitation plan be increased to 70 per cent. is regarded by American officials today as a delicate one but not without hope that her spokesmen ultimately would accept the original plan. The question is entirely removed from the basis of calculating the naval ratios on present fleet strength and a matter of policy for settlement by the plenipotentiaries of the powers and not by their technical advisers.

Regarding the argument of national security the American delegates and experts backed by the opinion of the British delegate held that its logical application would mean a reduction rather than an increase in the naval ratio proposed for Japan. With the sub-committee of experts of the "big three" naval powers in formal disagreement on adjourning yesterday on the basis to be used for these comparisons. It was considered today that further progress could be only in discussion between the American and Japanese delegates.

Dividing attention with the naval situation today was the first meeting of the representatives of China and Japan with Sec. Hughes and Arthur J. Hays Sulzberger as respective heads of the American and British groups in lay a basis for negotiations looking to a settlement of the celebrated Shantung controversy. The Chinese delegates announced, after accepting the American and British offer of "good offices" in the controversy, that they were entering the discussion prepared to accept nothing less than unconditional withdrawal of Japanese claims in Shantung. It was assumed that the Japanese spokesmen would contend for the reservations insisted on in the recent diplomatic exchange between Peking and Tokyo.

Stiff Sentence in Liquor Case

hoose for his own use. The accused, the police informed the court, was arraigned for illegal keeping April 2 and fined $150, which he paid. He also pleaded guilty on that occasion, Deputy Downey stated.

Having conducted a thorough investigation of the general liquor conditions in this city, Federal Officer Sheldon told the court that he was pretty thoroughly convinced that in the Elm street district, liquor is being manufactured by persons whom he believes are henchmen of an organized bootlegging "gang." He said that within the past few weeks he and the local liquor squad had seized ten stills in an Elm street tenement block. "Your Honor also knows," he went on, "that five fires which recently broke out in this city were caused by stills in operation. In this particular Elm street district the fire hazard is especially great as a great many people live in those tenements. This section is infested with booze, and it is my opinion there is some one higher up, who is at the head of the club and who furnishes the local men with the stills and accessories with which to turn out the liquor."

The Court's Comment

Judge Knight, commenting on the situation, not only stated that the matter was a serious one, although he thought the raiding officers were performing good work, but he advised Deputy Downey to notify the owners of these tenements in question of the illicit liquor practices reported transpiring on their property and told him to swear out a warrant for their arrest charging them with maintaining a liquor nuisance in case they do not take the necessary steps to prevent further violation of the law.

"Such a course can be taken," the court said, "only the other day," he continued, "a Judge in Cambridge imposed a large fine on a property owner."

Elm Street Raid

The federal officer and police liquor squad led by Sgt. Winn visited one of the tenement blocks on Elm street yesterday afternoon and made a haul that included three of the most ingenious stills yet found in this district. In connection with this raid they took Oliver into custody.

A compartment in the cellar of the building housed a 75-gallon still, 10 barrels containing approximately 500 gallons of mash, four one-gallon jugs and two quarts of moonshine, besides other liquor making accessories. The officers say that in a corner of the same room stood a four-burner gas stove sunk into the ground and ingeniously arranged so that the large still could be easily fitted on it. In another section of this partitioned cellar they found three small kegs containing a small quantity of moonshine, two gallons of the same fluid concealed beneath floor boards, and three barrels of mash. Continuing their search through the house the squad located two more stills, smaller in capacity than the one in the cellar, which they also seized.

Officer Kenney testified during Oliver's trial that the defendant admitted to him he owned the still found in the cellar.

During the past two weeks the police say they seized 10 stills in one large tenement block, about 5000 gallons of mash, a large quantity of moonshine and much paraphernalia used in making the illicit liquid in the Elm street district.

Cherry Place Raid

Following the Elm street raid Federal Officer Sheldon and the police squad, composed of Sgt. Winn and Officers Cossette, Sullivan, Kenney, Moore and Conney, proceeded to a house on Cherry place, where they found a 35-gallon still in operation on a three-burner stove, a keg of moonshine, three one-gallon jugs and about 300 gallons of mash. In connection with this raid the police arranged Antonio Jardine in court today on an illegal keeping charge. The accused pleaded guilty and was fined $150, which he paid. Regardless of the fact that this was a first offense the justice remarked that in such cases where liquor is manufactured in large quantities, evidently for business purposes, severe action should be taken.

Annual loss due to industrial accidents is estimated at $1,000,000,000.

Heroes Still Look Bravely Into Gun Muzzles—In Films

JACK HOLT'S FAVORITE ROLE IS AS HERO TO JACK HOLT, JR., WHO IS TWO YEARS OLD. HOLT'S FIRST STELLAR VEHICLE, "THE CALL OF THE NORTH," HAS JUST BEEN RELEASED.

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—You coward, the North," his first starring vehicle. And the villain doesn't shoot. Later Jack has the villain at the challenges Jack Holt in "The Call of the threatening end of a revolver. The villain bares himself to impending death, but Jack doesn't shoot him. Both incidents pass with no more than a yawn upon the part of the audience. That's because that device as a thriller has been worn threadbare on the stage and in the movies. Undoubtedly there's a bit of psychology in the situation. The unflinching bravery of a man about to die is likely to make impotent the hand of the assassin for generally the man who would shoot an unarmed adversary is a weakling. His mind would be ready subject to the influence of a man brave enough to face death unflinchingly.

However, my neighbor in the theatre summed up the situation rather tersely. "Let someone poke one of those wicked things at me and I'd be long gone from there, if my legs had the strength to carry me," he said. "My mother didn't bring up any foolish child."

It would have been a bloodless war if all the allied doughboys had bared their breasts to the weapons of the Germans undoubtedly would have put down their arms in surrender in face of such bravery. Yes, they would not!

"The Call of the North" is an adaptation of "The Conjuror's House," by Stewart Edward White. Its outdoor settings in rugged mountains and placid lakes of the north command commendation. They are of rare beauty.

Jack Holt proves in this film he is worthy of stardom, but the story on the whole is of only passing interest. It does not intrigue steadfast attention.

Chaplin in an Old One
One of the most interesting films I have seen for some time is a revival of "The Rink," one of Chaplin's old slap-stick comedies.

The most striking thing about it to me was Chaplin's athletic prowess, an attribute almost forgotten since the comedian has deserted slap-stick stuff for more refined comedy.

Chaplin in that old picture cuts dices on roller skates that might well be the envy of any skater who strives to excel in the figure-eight and the spread-eagle.

And Chaplin proves his right to recognition as the country's greatest comedian when he can make an audience laugh at the same tricks it has seen him perform on several previous occasions.

Film Flashes
"Under Orders," Jack Hoxie's next, "Look Pleasant, Please," latest release of Harold Lloyd one-reel comedies.

Roy Stewart and Louise Lovely appear in "Life's Greatest Question." Bill and Bob, boy trappers, show how to catch the weasel, the invader of the chicken coop, in their latest film.

The movements of Tilden and Johnston, tennis champs, are shown in slow motion in the latest Pathé Review.

Herbert Rawlinson is to be starred in a picture adapted from a story written by a man serving a life sentence in the Arizona penitentiary.

Hugo Rosenfeld's adaptation of "La Tosca" to screen opera proved so popular that he is running it for the second week at the Rialto, New York.

CHARITY GUILD'S CHRISTMAS SALE

The Christmas sale under the auspices of St. Michael's Charity guild opened this afternoon in the guild house on Sixth street. The sale will continue tonight, tomorrow and Saturday.

No pains have been spared by the committee, working under the direction of Mr. Francis J. Mullin, to make the affair a success. In other years the decorations have been a big feature. This year the hall has been transformed into a miniature fairy land. Original ideas have been worked up to a degree of perfection and it is doubtful if professional decorators could have done better than the hard working amateurs of the organization.

Every article on the several tables has been made by guild members and some of it, especially the fancy needle work, is the result of hours of careful labor.

In addition to the sale, a feed table has been added this year. Patrons will be able to obtain fresh cooked food-stuffs each day. All of the women contributing to this table have reputations as cooks to maintain and all will strive to keep from falling below their proud standards.

REAPPOINTMENT FOR LOWELL MAN

Governor Channing H. Cox yesterday sent to the executive council for confirmation the name of Fred W. Jenness of Chelmsford street, Lowell, for reappointment as state commissioner on firemen's relief. It is expected the council will confirm the nomination in a day or two. Mr. Jenness was informed of his re-appointment by The Sun today. He stated he had not yet heard of it although he thought this was the time of year when the governor usually forwarded his name to the council for confirmation. Mr. Jenness has been commissioner on firemen's relief for 18 years, receiving his first appointment from former Governor Bates in 1903. The appointment is for two years now, a change having been made from a few years ago when the term was a three-year one. Commissioner Jenness is a real estate dealer and is well known not only in this community but throughout the commonwealth because of his activities in fire department circles. The work he is called on to perform is the recommendation for relief pay allotted by the state to firemen injured while in the performance of duty or in case of death the allowances made to dependents.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres Own Press Agents
H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
"Will You, Jim?" is a very positive trademark for the act of J. Francis Dooley and Corinne Sales, at the B. F. Keith theatre this week. Although their present act, after they have been on the Century roof in New York for a season and as the stars with "Monte Christo, Jr." for another season, is decidedly more snappy and likable than it ever was before. They are scoring a splendid hit at the theatre during the present week. Bowman Bros., the "Blue Grass Boys," are giving some delightful imitations of the old-time negro, and Raymond Bond, assisted by Eleanor Magnamon, presents "Tremaine" an originally a good comedy playlet every minute that it is being played. Other acts on for the week are: Barbara & Grohs, sensational dancers; Peggie Carhart, violinist; Nelson & Vincent, balancers, and Daley, Mac & Daley, roller skaters.

"THE THREE MUSKETEERS"

Marguerite De La Motte, who is Douglas Fairbanks' leading lady in "The Three Musketeers" which comes to the Rialto theatre Monday, December 5th, for a limited engagement, started her stage career through the medium of her toes. Marguerite was born in Duluth, Michigan, and as a child attracted Madame Pavlova with her wonderful artistry as a dancer. Pavlova was so impressed that she persuaded Marguerite's parents to allow her to take up the finer arts under the guidance of none other than herself. This fact, added to a beautiful face and form soon brought out the grace and perfect rhythm which go hand in hand with the successful actress of today.

Miss De La Motte is one of the youngest leading ladies in motion pictures today. At the present time she is only nineteen years old and has the distinction of being leading lady to the greatest male star in picturedom, Douglas Fairbanks. She is playing the part of Constance, the sweetheart of D'Artagnan in Doug's greatest picture, "The Three Musketeers." She is the biggest star presented, including Mary Pickford in "Through the Back Door," and Douglas Fairbanks in "The Nut." Never before in the history of motion pictures have two parts been played by two stars on the same program in their own offerings, and what makes the local presentation all the more praiseworthy is the fact that the prices are unchanged.

"Through the Back Door" is said to be one of Miss Pickford's most delightful screen creations, for it affords greater opportunity for this wonderfully talented film star to reflect her exceptional talent in the characterization of a young girl—a mere child. Fairbanks' picture is also characteristic of his successful presentations on the screen. It has vigor, stunts and unusual happenings.

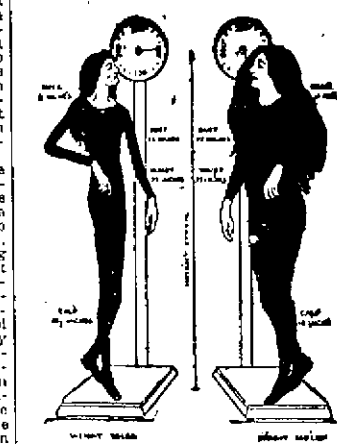

OPERA HOUSE

Despite the unfavorable weather conditions of the past few days, the attendance at the Opera House has been normal, principally because of the nature and excellent presentation of the melodramatic success, "Why Girls Leave Home," by the Lowell Players. It's a gripping, startling and wonderfully interesting expose of conditions in many homes and cities of the present day. Don't miss it. Order early for the remaining performances. Next week "The Little Church Around the Corner."

RIALTO THEATRE
A complete change of program goes on at the Rialto theatre (this afternoon) with the showing of Pauline Starke in "Salvation Nell." Marjorie Rameau

In "On Her Honor," a comedy and the Kingdome.
"Salvation Nell" is adapted from the famous Edward Sheldon stage play of the same name and is said to be one of the most pretentious photoplays yet made at the Whittier Bennett studio. It was filmed under the direction of Kenneth Webb, who was responsible for some of the recent screen successes of Lionel Barrymore, and carries a most interesting human interest story. The other attractions of the Rialto for the week end are far beyond the usual run and should attract a full house every day.

LOWELL MAN NOMINATED INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS

Fred Hamel Nominated for Presidency of Railroad Station Employees

Fred Hamel, of Lowell, was nominated for the presidency of the Brotherhood of Railroad Station Employees at a meeting in Puritan hall, Boston, last night. P. J. Clair, of Somerville, also received nomination for the main office, while Matthew Rae, of Lawrence, was nominated for vice-president. The election is to take place Dec. 22.

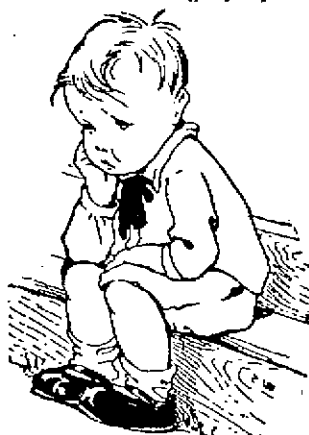

FOR BENEFIT OF CHILDREN'S HOME

Last night at Colonial hall an audience of 150 thoroughly enjoyed the program set forth by Harrell, the musical magician. The entertainment was held by the Middlesex Women's club as a benefit for the Children's home. Professor Harrell opened the entertainment promptly at eight o'clock by playing several jazz selections on the saxophone and then followed this by playing a few classical pieces on an instrument that consisted of glasses in which were electric lights. The music was made by passing the hands lightly over the tops of the glasses. Immediately after the musical numbers Professor Harrell proceeded to make several picture scenes with various colored cloths. The pictures that he portrayed were a scene in Holland, the family dog, a Dutch boy, and a bicycle rider. The final number of the program was the performance of several tricks of magic. The tricks performed were of a most difficult sort and completely mystified the audience. Professor Harrell was aided in the performance of these tricks by some small boys that he called from the audience. These youngsters will probably never forget last night's entertainment. Professor Harrell seemed to get as much enjoyment out of performing the tricks as the audience did in seeing them performed. Among the ones that were the most interesting were the placing of ten coins in a boy's hand and when told to count them the boy found 13 instead of 10, the transferring of 50 cents from a cloth in one boy's hand to a box in another youngster's hand, and the transferring of a two dollar bill from a bottle to the middle of a apple. These were only a few of the many clever tricks that he performed, holding the absolute attention of the audience. During the musical numbers Professor Harrell was accompanied at the piano by Miss Mabelle Reardon of this city.

Cost to Insurance Companies
in Year Ending June 30,
Was $5,500,000

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Industrial accidents in Massachusetts, during the year ending June 30, cost the insurance companies more than five and a half millions of dollars, according to figures published today by the Industrial accident board.

This vast sum, $5,666,852.93 to be exact, represents only the amount actually paid by the insurance companies, or which they are obligated to pay. It does not take into account the losses sustained by injured employees, for which no compensation is paid.

Under the Massachusetts law, an injured employee receives no compensation for the first ten days of his incapacity, following injury. Beginning with the eleventh day after the injury, so long as he remains incapacitated, following injury. Beginning with the eleventh day after the injury, so long as he remains incapacitated, following injury. Beginning with the eleventh day after the injury, so long as he remains incapacitated, following injury.

The sum mentioned, while it nominally comes out of the treasuries of the insurance companies, is paid by them from premiums collected from employers of labor, and it is assumed that they, in turn, add it to the price of their goods, so that in the last analysis it is the general public that bears the burden.

The largest single item involved in last year's cost were the payments made to persons not fatally injured. These totaled $2,272,756.10, and in addition there were outstanding at the end of the year claims amounting to $1,170,755.68 more.

For medical services, the companies paid $1,320,363.41, and outstanding bills of this character amounted on June 30 to $318,701.03.

To the dependents of fatally injured employees, payments totaling $95,541.26 were made, and outstanding obligations amount to $641,067. While this latter sum would at first thought seem excessive, it should be borne in mind that under the law payments in fatal injury cases may continue for a period of 500 weeks. It is the large number of cases in which the payments are thus to be strung out that the total of outstanding obligations is so high.

The total number of injured employees reported during the year was 148,522. Of these there were 49,741 whose injuries were not such as to entitle them to the payment of either compensation or medical bills.

In 36,511 cases, benefits of some sort were paid, but of this number 70,052 received no compensation, having only their medical bills paid. On the other hand, there were 1,400 who received compensation and for whom no medical bills were paid. In 22,150 cases, both medical bills and compensation benefits were paid.

Two hundred and nineteen employees were killed under circumstances coming within the compensation law. In 154 cases, the employee left dependents who were wholly dependent upon his earnings; in 47 cases there were those who were partially dependent, and in 25 cases there were no dependents.

TEN CHILDREN KILLED

Train Ran Down High School Automobile Bus on Railroad Crossing

RED BLUFF, Cal., Dec. 1.—Ten high school students were killed yesterday south of here at the Roberts crossing when a Southern Pacific train No. 3, south-bound, struck the high school automobile bus in which they were riding. Four children and the driver were injured.

The bus, en route with children to school, had suffered an accident and was behind schedule. Two drivers were sent from the high school to bring it in. Another bus crossed ahead of the train but this one, following closely behind in a dense fog was struck squarely and hurled into a black signal. Enclosed in the car, the children were unable to escape and their bodies were hurled in all directions.

SERIES OF LECTURES ON SALESMANSHIP

Traveling men and salesmen of Lowell are interested in the course of ten lectures on Salesmanship, which the state division of University Extension will start here tomorrow evening, Dec. 2, at 7.30 o'clock. In the Lowell high school. Already 35 members of the United Commercial Travelers' association have signified their intention of joining the class and entered their application for membership. The course is of particular interest to those engaged in road selling and is given here late in the week so that traveling men who are away from Lowell the first of the week may be able to take the course.

John J. Morgan of Boston has been designated as instructor of the course and brings to his work the experience of a practical salesman besides that of a teacher who has devoted much time to giving courses in the subject to experienced men in his city. Those who become members of this advanced class should have had previous training in this subject according to Mr. Morgan.

Enrollment in the class is open to residents of Lowell and vicinity. An agent of the staff of the division at the state house will attend the first meeting in order to assist Mr. John P. Cryan of the United Commercial Travelers' association, who is, together with other Lowell residents, interested in the organization of the class. Application for membership will be received at this meeting.

WORCESTER AND SALEM SEASON PRODUCED GREAT WIN POLO GAMES

WORCESTER, Dec. 1.—Worcester with a trio of registers, one of them a full in goal, won over Lawrence here last night, 3 to 2. Lawrence got a brace of certain drives in the first frame and neither team was able to connect in the second. With the score against them, 2 to 0, Worcester took a brace and nosed out the visitors. It was a good game. The score:

LAWRENCE Worcester 3, Lawrence 2. Goals: Harkins, 1; Taylor, 1. Referee: Kilgus.

SALEM 12, FALL RIVER 3

SALEM, Dec. 1.—Salem handed Fall River a severe drubbing here last night, 15 to 3. It was Salem all the way and the game was listless. Jettie and K. Williams staged a terrific match and the team secured two goals, but no injury resulted. The score:

SALEM Fall River 3, Salem 15. Goals: Williams, 1; K. Williams, 1; Pierce, 1; MacEneaney, 1; H. Hart, 1; Bird 1. Referee: Ford.

HAVERHILL-NEWTON GAME CALLED OFF

The much talked of Haverhill-Newton high school football game that has steadily been cancelled leaves the school boy championship question still unsettled. The game between the two teams was to have taken place this coming Saturday at the Haverhill stadium and was to settle the state championship. It would also settle the rivalry that exists between the two coaches, Bill Broderick of Haverhill and Albie Dickinson of Newton. This rivalry started when Broderick's star Haverhill team defeated Dickinson's unbeaten Newton team in a post-season game last year. Since that defeat all Newton has been more than anxious to wipe it out and this year when both teams have through their schedules undefeated Newton sent a challenge to the Haverhill authorities. The challenge was accepted and every preparation was being made for the game when the weather played a cruel havoc with the stadium that Haverhill has been unable to practice since their game with St. John's on Thanksgiving. Although both teams have been undefeated, it seems that the Newton team is the stronger. Haverhill has been tied on two occasions and Newton has defeated both teams, administering a severe drubbing to one of them. However, Haverhill is a surprise team and always manages to hold its own. On Thanksgiving it was thought that St. John's would defeat Haverhill, but the down-river boys came through with a 12-0 victory.

YALE CAPTAIN WINS HONORS

After all, sportsmanship is the thing. Referee Hob Maxwell in charge of the Yale-Haverhill game, tells this very interesting story:

"Early in the first period, Clark, the Harvard star, was injured. The Harvard trainer was working hard to patch up the injury. Within the given two minutes so as to avoid the penalty prescribed by the rules."

"Captain Adrich of Yale, realizing it would take more than two minutes to properly attend to the injury, said to me: 'Please tell the Harvard trainer to take as much time as is needed.'"

Record of McInnis Greatest Feat of the Year

'STUFFY' MCINNIS

FIRST BASEMAN OF THE BOSTON RED SOX WHO MADE ONLY ONE ERROR LAST SEASON

By BILLY EVANS

"Stuffy" McInnis, the brilliant first baseman of the Boston Red Sox, made a most remarkable record last season. Usually, when a player performs some unheard of feat it is heralded all over the states in big headlines. In many ways the record of McInnis was one of the most extraordinary feats ever performed in the major leagues, yet it has been given only slight consideration.

Playing through the entire season, McInnis made only one error. Consider all the play that centers around first base. Recall the many difficult throws the first sacker has to handle. Don't forget the many plays the first baseman must make on ground balls.

"Think over all those things and then remember that during the entire season McInnis made only one error, and you will have a fairly good idea of the magnitude of 'Stuffy's' performance."

It was the irony of fate that McInnis should have made his only error in the city in which he made his start, Philadelphia. It was also a tough break that caused the official scorer

MADE SPECIAL AGENT HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

Lowell Post Adjutant Appointed Special Agent of U. S. Dept. of Labor

Robert J. Rutledge, of Bertha street, adjutant of Lowell Post, 57, of the American Legion, received word yesterday of his appointment as a special agent of the United States department of labor at Lowell. Mr. Rutledge has been conducting the employment bureau of the legion since its inception, with marked success, and his recent appointment is looked to boom the activities of the legion in placing unemployed ex-service men to work. This is in view of the fact that the bureau will henceforth receive the full co-operation of the U. S. Labor department in obtaining work for veterans of the war and in speeding the business of the bureau. Mr. Rutledge with the appointment receives free mailing privileges for his employment work in the district and will also receive all the reports and bulletins issued by the department at Washington, which are expected to aid greatly the employment mission.

The executive committee of the Lowell Legion Post will meet in room 205, Bradley building, tomorrow evening to take up several matters of importance.

The regular meeting of the Post, at which officers will be elected, will be held Monday evening in Memorial hall.

"SNEERS AND INSULTS"

Anonymous Letters and Telegrams Sent to Centre College—Game With Tech Off

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 1.—Anonymous letters and telegrams from Atlanta containing "sneers and insults" to the Centre College have been presented Georgia Tech and Centre from arranging a football game for 1922 in Atlanta. It was said today by Dr. S. S. Wallace of the Georgia Tech athletic department that the letters and telegrams were from a letter from J. B. Wood of Chicago, alumni manager of Centre athletics, saying: "This fall we have been receiving regularly letters, telegrams marked copies of papers, covered with sneers, insults and the like."

Mr. Wood added, according to Dr. Wallace that "in justice to Tech, I should say they are most likely in a way respectful, but that it was felt it would be best to defer a game in Atlanta until the spite among the followers and sympathizers had undergone a change."

Dr. Wallace issued a statement saying no one connected with Georgia Tech and no friend of the school had anything to do with sending such communication to Centre college authorities.

COLLEGE CHATTER

Howard college has offered "Bo" McInnis the position of football coach.

Coach Beazek of Penn State does not look for a game with California on New Year's day with favor.

Rumor has it that Princeton and the Navy Ocean is an all-around athlete. Roger figures the Tigers have been carrying too hard a schedule.

Western football enthusiasts will have a chance to look over Princeton in 1922. The Tigers' agreement with Chicago calls for a return game in the Windy City next fall.

Yale intends to make several changes in its football plans for next year, but it is practically certain that Holmes will again be head coach.

Ruell and Owen are the leading candidates for the Harvard football captaincy. Owen is an all-around athlete. He is captain of the hockey team and a leading member of the baseball team.

Notre Dame will lose eleven star football players in June. Coach Rockne has a big task in front of him to develop a winner in 1922.

Much interest will be taken in the game between Penn State and the University of Washington. It will give a line on the eastern football vs. the coast. For fear you have forgotten, California beat Washington 12 to 3. Penn State has some task to uphold the reputation of the east.

The latest dope on Charley Moran is that he is a coach Centre college again next year. Charley, former University of Pittsburgh star, is to continue as his line coach.

California desires to enter into a two-year agreement with Illinois. Illinois can select from October 2, November 4 and December 2 as the date.

It is to be regretted that Cornell and Lafayette didn't have a harder schedule. There really is no way of telling just how powerful these two elusive were. Neither one was properly tested.

ST. ANNE BOYS WIN

The St. Anne's first basketball team opened its season Tuesday night by defeating the strong St. John's team, 22-14, in a game that was featured by many thrilling plays. The team work of the St. Anne's second team won its game from the Whalers 13-11. This is the second victory of the season for this team. The first team will play its second game tonight, while the second team will meet the Echoes of Centralville. A feature of the game Tuesday night was the work of the cheering section under the leadership of Miss Agnes Davidson.

Boxing

Johnny "Tip" Quinn is a far better boxer than he is credited for being. The upper Gotham street brawler has found that he has two hands and uses both to advantage. In his fight with Sailor Ross Quinn showed the sailor how a left jab should be executed and he also demonstrated that he could handle his right mitt whenever necessary.

Quinn will meet in Kid Lee a rugged, rough fighter of the old school tonight. Tip should use his gloved hands in jabbing and footwork is just suited for a tearing style of fighter like Lee. However, the local boy will be obliged to step on lively rounds in order to get the decision.

Steve Austin and Mike Castle, who are to meet in the main event here tonight, are both lightweights. Y.M.C.A. this afternoon. They have forfeited posted—126 pounds is the stipulated poundage.

Steve Austin could make 150 pounds ringside without any trouble, but the lad has thickened up through his shoulders. His punching ability has increased and Austin doesn't want to grow careless with him. Mike is not fond of having his stomach battered and a sock or two from the Austin batteries in his mid-section is quite liable to decide the fight.

Johnny Moran looks better with each succeeding day. He has now worked himself down to nearly the ideal limit and another week will be well under it. Moran can make 133 pounds without missing a meal and the new lightweight limit set by the Massachusetts commission of 133 pounds is a cinch for him.

Moran has been signed up by the local club for next week, his opponent yet to be named. Another week he comes up to expectations, will have plenty of work right here in Lowell. Promoter Dodge has shown a marked change in the attitude of the boys and Johnny will be no exception.

Jeff Smith, of Bayonne N. J., is mentioned as the next opponent for Johnny Johnson in Boston. Smith has been nearly every boxer of any prominence in the middleweight division and has rarely been declared the loser.

Bryan Downey, of Columbus, O., who sprang into fame after his memorable battle with Johnny Wilson will meet him.

Johnny Brown, of Newport, the featherweight champion of Rhode Island, has started a campaign for the featherweight championship of New England. There are very few featherweights that he has not defeated, and these few he wants to get into the ring with him. He is confident that he will win. He is full of confidence, and he has a right to be, for he has yet to lose a battle to any featherweight, and has defeated such boys as Jack O'Leary, Steve Travers, Young Tansy, Mack Murphy, Conny Pierce, K.D. Charles, Brennan, Phil Christie, John Donahue, and has knocked out Derl Skillet, George Gorman, and only this week knocked out 'Freddy' Hubbs in six rounds. The only boys that have defeated Brown are lightweight but since devoting his time to featherweights, he has won them all.

Georges Carpentier is said to be suffering from a nervous breakdown. After what happened to Georges at Jersey City on the Fourth of July, we are surprised that he has any nerves left to break.

JUDGE SPANKS 'EM IN COURT

(By N.E.A. Service)

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 1.—"Spare the rod and spoil the child. That isn't original but it's true."

That's how Judge E. E. Porterfield explains the "public execution" that took place in his court when he spanked four boys for truancy.

Spanking is forbidden in Kansas City schools. And the boys' parents wouldn't spank them for "playing hooky."

So they were halled into Judge Porterfield's court. Sending them to

Now that the tournament of the chrysanthemum is over we shall turn to that of the roses.

Tennis, says a news item, is the only major sport that lacks a professional class. It is hard to figure whether that is intended for a compliment or not.

Do you know that? Johnny Wilson trained for what he did up at Jersey City?

Speaking of pessimists, Nick Altrock says the prize pessimist is the fellow who puts a bumper on the rear and front of a second-hand Ford.

You might say that the fellow who loses all his jack on the horses is "nagged" to death.

Jim Jeffries says Jack Johnson is the greatest fighter that ever lived. Recalling what Johnson did to Jeffries, we can understand why he made such an assertion.

Jack Hutchison says the correct way to learn the golf game is master the swing before even trying to hit the ball. From some of the golf scores we have scanned, it would seem a lot of people religiously follow the line about not hitting the ball.

Where is the man who spends all his time at play, The guy who is so rich he gives his coin away, Whose cellar's full of what turns night to day, If you know where he is—where is he?

Charley Ebbetts of Brooklyn says there is room for 150 promising players in the two major leagues. Frankly there is room for that many on the Brooklyn club, judging from the way it played last year.

At a wrestling match in New York the other evening, the principals did everything but bite. Why so polite? There is nothing in the rules of wrestling which forbids it.

Russians Discard Clothing and Engage in Protesting War Dance

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 1.—Three men from the Doukhobors, or Russian Non-Resistant settlement near Nelson, B. C., discarded all their clothing in a waiting room at the Canadian Pacific railway station here yesterday, and paced off a protesting war dance when they were refused admittance to the United States. They were later arrested for disorderly conduct.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

PRACTICAL COURSE IN BUSINESS LAW

A practical course in business law, opening at the Lowell high school on Wednesday evening, Dec. 1, at 7:30 o'clock, will be added to the program of public instruction arranged for Lowell residents by the state division of university extension. The twenty lessons into which the course is divided include a careful discussion of the daily problems of men and women in business. Among the subjects to be covered are contracts, sales, notes, insurance, bank copyrights and trademarks. Superintendent of Schools Hugh J. Molloy has been instrumental in interesting state officials in the organization of this class, and it is mainly through his efforts that the course will be offered here at the high school.

Instruction is especially designed to meet the needs of persons who are carrying on business in Lowell and are directly or indirectly dealing with property. Membership in the class will be open to all interested men and women in this city and vicinity. Under an experienced instructor, Patrick Reynolds of the Massachusetts bar, the elementary principles governing ordinary business transactions will be presented to the students of business law. Modern business relations are complex and involved, and according to Attorney Reynolds, every business man and business woman requires some knowledge of business law in order to avoid costly mistakes which, once made, the most expert legal aid could not straighten out.

Accountants, merchants, bankers, notaries, insurance agents and brokers, as well as professional men and women will find this course especially advantageous. The names of persons intending to take this course may be registered at the office of the superintendent of schools during the next two weeks; registration will also be accepted at the first meeting of the class.

SEEK SISTER OF MAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Efforts to locate a sister of the late Harry F. Robinson, killed near Mount Clemens, Michigan, last November 16, believed to be a resident of Lowell or some nearby town were renewed by the local police today when Supt. Welch received a letter from Chief of Police A. J. Rose, of Mount Clemens, requesting that additional attempts be made to find the woman as it is authentically known there that she lives in or near Lowell.

A similar letter was received several days after the accident and the police took steps to locate the sister but without success. In ending the letter the Mount Clemens police chief states: "Robinson was connected with the race track here and was quite a follower of the 'trouters'." The police say they know nothing about the deceased and have no idea where his sister may be residing. Chief Welch will appreciate any information that can be given him regarding the case.

SETS UP NEW BOWLING RECORD

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 1.—George Falkenberg of St. Joseph, Mo., broke the world's record in the singles in the mid-west bowling tournament late yesterday when he shot 726, just one pin more than the mark set several days ago by George Becker of Milwaukee. Becker's mark broke the existing world's record at that time by a margin of six pins.

JUNIOR HOLY NAME

The regular meeting of St. Columba's Junior Holy Name was held last evening in the parish hall. All the members who have not made returns are requested to do so, in order to enable the committee to have its report ready for the next meeting. All the members are requested to attend the next meeting because of several important matters which will be discussed. The next meeting will be held Wednesday at 7 o'clock in the parish hall.

OWNERS OF BROOKLYN THEATRE OUT ON BAIL

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Sylvester Rosenthal and Samuel Moskowitz, owners and contractors of the American theatre in Brooklyn, which collapsed, burying nearly 50 workmen, yesterday were ordered held without bail when they were arraigned before Magistrate McDermott on charges of manslaughter.

Later, however, Supreme Court Justice Kelly granted a writ of habeas corpus and the pair were released on $15,000 bail each, furnished by a surety company.

With four city departments pressing separate inquiries, search of the ruins continued, resulting in the discovery of the seventh body. Eighteen injured are lying in hospitals.

Three additional arrests were made late yesterday when Michael, Charles and Vito Cannella, brothers, employed as masonry contractors, were held in $10,000 bail each on charges of homicide. The complaint charges they used inferior material in the construction work under their contract.

SCHOOLMASTERS' CLUB

The Massachusetts Schoolmasters' club will hold its second meeting of the year at the Boston City club on Saturday, Dec. 3. Dinner will be served at 1 p. m. The topic for discussion will be "What Should Be the Attitude of the Public Schools Towards Social, Industrial and Economic Problems?"

The principal speaker is John P. Moors, of the board of overseers, Harvard college. The discussion will be led by Dr. John M. Brewer of Harvard and Bernard M. Sheridan, superintendent of schools, Lawrence, Mass.

FOCH'S FIGHTING SPIRIT AROUSED

Generalissimo Passes Spot at Centralia, Wash., Where 4 Legion Members Were Slain

Declares He Enlisted Under Banner of Legion "To Do Battle Against Anarchy"

CENTRALIA, Wash., Dec. 1.—The fighting spirit of Marshal Foch was aroused last night when he left his special train here, passed the spot where four members of the American Legion were slain on Armistice day, 1919, and then in the city park, addressing thousands of people, declared that he enlisted under the banner of the American Legion "to do battle against anarchy and disorder."

"I knew the brave soldiers whom you sent to me from this city, for I saw them in action in France," he said. "And I have come to this spot to salute the memory of those who, having been spared the horrors of war, returned to full under the banner of anarchy."

"These men personify the spirit of patriotism and the spirit of self-sacrifice which lie at the base of the organization to which they belonged—the American Legion. And when I see this great organization applying in time of peace the same splendid traditions and principles which it applied so magnificently during the war, I give to it my complete support and sympathy; and I inscribe myself upon its muster roll with all my soul, for the battle against anarchy and disorder."

R. R. Shop Craft Rules

by the board, including the vote of A. O. Wharton, of the labor group, who cast a dissenting vote upon the last wage cut.

The new rules became effective today, December 1, and take jurisdiction over approximately 400,000 men immediately although a still larger number will be affected when the normal traffic conditions are restored.

Far reaching changes in the rules, which supplant the national agreement made during federal control, were designed to afford a basis for permanent stability in the railroad shops of the country and were declared by members of the labor board to be the most important work yet done by the board and of much greater significance than any decision in the past, even including wage scale adjustments.

Results in $50,000,000 Saving
Large economies are expected to result from revision of the classification rules, which were made more elastic, and hereafter will permit members of certain crafts to do minor jobs previously done by members of other crafts. Statisticians attached to the labor board estimated that economies in operation, increased efficiency and larger output, would approximate $50,000,000 a year.

Provision for the representation of minorities who may have grievances is another important item of the new rules. Under the national agreement, negotiation for employees was placed almost wholly in the hands of labor organizations, with the result that the railroads and many industrial and civic institutions declared that the agreement forced a closed union shop on the roads. Non-union men found it impracticable to attempt to bring their grievances before the board and as the rules worked out, union officials handled the cases, taking the precedent from the national agreement negotiations in which union officials acted for the employees in drawing up the agreement under federal control.

Principle of Open Shop

"The principle of the open shop established by the new rules," a statement by board members said, "will in fact, be more theoretical than practical at the present time, since a large majority of the railroad shops are unionized and the existing unions are recognized by the board and by the Transportation act as representative of the majority."

"Most of the older working rules, sanctioned by the experience of years, are preserved in full effect. Many of the more rigid rules, however, were considerably relaxed in favor of the roads, although the recognized rights of the men are fully protected and the principle of collective bargaining and union recognition is retained, as contemplated by the Transportation act."

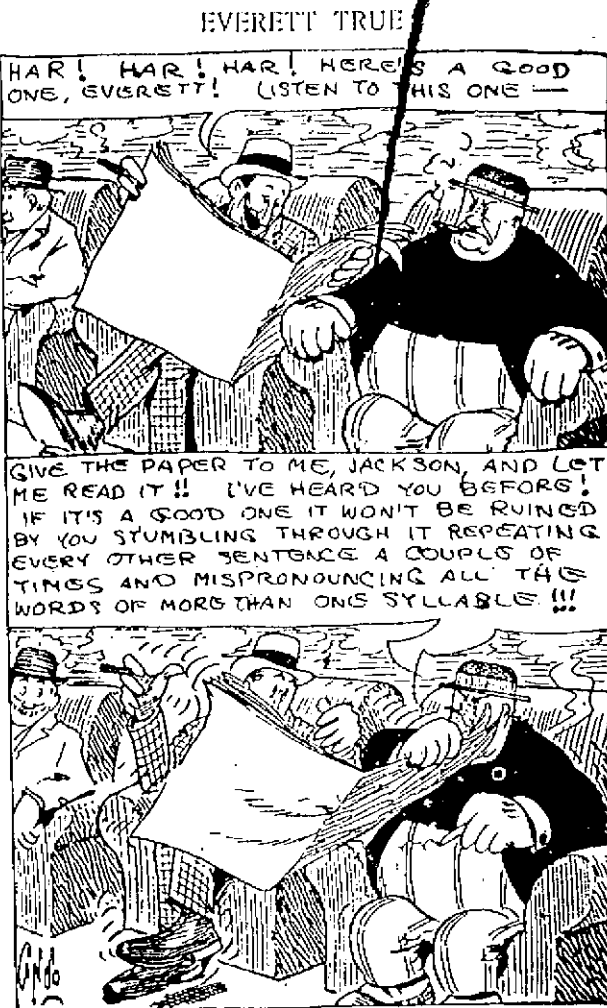

The rules controversy dates back to May 1, 1920, when the railroads emerged from government control. Strenuous objections to the national agreement were made in a hearing which began January 10, 1921. After several months of testimony, the rules were referred back to the individual roads with instructions to negotiate such new rules as they could with their employees to replace the federal government rules.

Numerous rules were thus agreed upon by the new rules, but on no road was it possible to draft an entire new set. The rules disagreed upon were then sent back to the labor board and the rules promulgated today will replace any such rules not agreed upon by the roads and their employees. In any case where a rule has been agreed upon by the carrier and its employees, that rule governs, even though the labor board rule may be entirely different.

Classification of Work

The majority of the changes effected by the new rules is in the classification of the work to be performed by the various crafts. Almost without exception these classifications are made more elastic. Under previous agreements with the shop crafts, including the national agreement, it has been the custom to define in detail the various types of work belonging to each craft.

The carriers have complained that the national agreement set up in such minute detail the classification of duties that work not requiring specialized skill in any craft was assigned exclusively to a particular craft. For example work not requiring a mechanic's skill was assigned to a skill-chief, thus making efficient and economical operation impossible, according to the railroads.

The rules effective today broaden the scope of each craft's work. The mechanic working on running repairs may connect, or disconnect, any wiring, coupling or pipe connections, necessary to repair machinery or equipment. This work was previously assigned to electricians and sheet metal workers only.

Under the new rules, engineers, firemen and crane-men are not prohibited from making such repairs to equipment on the lines of the road as they are qualified to perform. The new rules thus allow train operatives to perform repair work even though it is ordinarily considered shop mechanic's work.

Boiler makers' helpers under the new rules are given the job of removing and replacing grates. Under the national agreement all grate rigger work was assigned to journeymen boiler makers.

Permits Apprentices to Do Work

The classification of the work of the sheet metal workers, electrical workers and car men has been changed to allow some of the work previously performed by them exclusively to be done by their helpers and to mechanics in other crafts, where the need of the service requires it. Under the national agreement, car men were exclusively assigned to wrecking crews.

Under the new rules, wrecking crews exclusive of engineers, will be composed of carmen, where sufficient men are available but when needed, men of any class may be taken as additional members of wrecking crews.

Another important change affecting car men is that which allows common laborers to dismantle wooden freight cars hereafter. Under the national agreement, only qualified carpenters were allowed to do this work. About 68 per cent of the country's freight cars are built of wood. The new rule will permit employees getting $2.25 to $5.00 a day to do work previously required to be done by car men receiving $5.84 a day.

An entirely new rule promulgated by the board, for the first time, creates a new type of apprentice to be known as "special apprentice." Previously there have been only two kinds of apprentices in the skilled shop crafts, regular and helpers' apprentices. Regular apprentices are youths entering the service between the ages of 16 and 21 years and serving four years' apprenticeship, and helper apprentices are those apprentices selected from the ranks of the helpers. Special apprentices are to be selected from young men between the ages of 18 and 26, who have had a technical school education, and they will be required to serve only three years' apprenticeship before becoming journeymen mechanics. Many Rules Highly Technical Rules which required certain standards of force and equipment to be maintained in doing certain kinds of work have been modified and some discontinued, thus eliminating the expense of maintaining unnecessary men on the rolls. Other rules have been changed to allow the use of forces assigned to particular classes of work on other work, when there is no work of their particular class to be performed.

Many of the rules are highly technical in character. Much time was spent on the rules regarding electrical railroads, which at present apply only to a few roads like the Pennsylvania and New York Central but which will become of increasing importance as the electrification of the steam lines proceeds.

The six shop crafts' employees involved are the carmen, sheet metal workers, mechanics, electricians, boiler makers and electrical workers. They were represented at the rules hearings by the following organizations: Brotherhood Railway Carmen of America, International Alliance of Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, International Association of Machinists, International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, Drop Forgers and Helpers, International Brotherhood of Tool and Ship Builders, and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. All these are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and are enrolled in the Railway Employees department of that organization.

The national agreement, supplemented today by the new rules, was entered into with the employees by the United States Railroad Administration September 20, 1919. From the first it was strongly criticized by the railroad managements and the others because they contended it imposed uneconomic methods of operation on the railroads, limited the discretion and control of the management and greatly increased the cost of operation. The railroads also complained that they had no voice in making the national agreement, which they declared was "wished on them" by the Railroad Administration. The employees have maintained that a very large part of the national agreement had been put into effect on various railroads, prior to federal control, by the voluntary act of the managements, and that it fairly represented current and employees' thought to working conditions and the rules.

In two previous decisions the board disposed of twenty-four shop craft rules mainly concerning over-time pay. Today's decision practically completes the rules for these crafts, with the exception of a few minor matters on which an agreement is probable. These the board has referred back to the roads and the employees for settlement by them.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is clean and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract. Known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "222 owners of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THIN, FADED HAIR NEEDS "DANDERINE" TO THICKEN IT

35 cents buys a bottle of "Danderine." Within ten minutes after the first application you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping your hair to grow long, thick and luxuriant.

Let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, thin, scraggy. A single application of delicious Danderine will make it beautiful and radiant as your hair and make it look twice as abundant.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A few drops of "Outero" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and loosens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight. "Outero" is a harmless, antiseptic, manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing direc-

AVOIDING A CRASH

These Vassar girls in their hockey games are just about as rough as the boys of the big colleges in their football scrimmages. Hurdling saved a crash here.

Getting Back to Normal

country, as it is to have a short circuit running to the nearest drug store or bowling alley. In fact, company officials figure that the big tolls must be opened before much work can be concentrated on the local "in city" lines, although everything is being done to get service to mills, hospitals, etc., and keep the local industries where they belong. More men are being hired every day for work on the power and light lines.

Manager Hunnewell of the lighting company got a busy call out of town this morning and will be away all day on a most important mission. It is said at headquarters that extraordinary efforts are to be made to send more aid to the city of Lowell, which is beginning to fear that it may not have complete power and lighting service until after New Year's. Whether the fears of the people are indicative of the true condition of affairs or not, remains to be seen. The company admits that the situation is critical in several ways, and no promises can be made as to the time when there will be anything like the old service on either the power or lighting circuits.

Manager Hunnewell told The Sun that he will keep the public fully informed in this newspaper from day to day.

Our Lines Tied Up
All street railway traffic in Lowell was tied up completely for 35 minutes this morning, just when the "big rush" was about to start. The company had seven large fire cars on the north side of the city, but no service could be given because of the breaking of one of the big feed wires running to the Middlesex car barns. At the corner of Branch and Mountain streets the limb of a large elm tree, loaded with other broken limbs from above and a large quantity of ice and snow, suddenly broke, crashing down on to the big wires and breaking the main feed into half a dozen pieces.

It appeared to have been chopped by an axe, company officials said, when they inspected it later. This caused a short circuit of the other feeders, and the whole transportation system was "dead." The officials from headquarters, fearing the worst, sounded up a big crew of linemen (between 14 and 18 men) and in 35 minutes one group of wires was ready again, and a temporary hitch put the "main feeder" where it belonged. Four big fire wagons hurried the men to the break, and Supt. Whalen said afterward it was one of the quickest repair jobs and a ticklish one besides that he has seen since the storm hit the city.

Not a drop of air or moisture must reach the wound if one wants to save the tree or branch, as the air will cause the wood to decay and crumble. If the wood is preserved by complete wax covering, sprouts will spring from the side of the broken limb and a new tree may come with proper training of the side limbs and trimmings.

Park Department
The park department started men at work this morning as tree climbers, to remove the broken branches, which still cling to a great number of trees. Up to today it has been impossible to do this work, on account of the ice encrusting the tree trunks, but yesterday's sunshine disposed of this to a great extent.

The department's entire force, with a few additions, are hard at work clearing up the debris in the wake of the storm and expect to be extremely busy for weeks to come.

The street department have secured about twenty more shovels and have hired that many men to wield them. It is said that no shovels can be secured in this city, and Commissioner Murphy stated today that there could not be enough secured in any way to playrights.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST "THEATRE COUGH"
PARIS, Dec. 1.—Paris actors have decided to organize a campaign against the "theatre cough." Coughs, they say, have a habit of occurring at dramatic moments in the plays and spoiling the effect intended by the playwrights.

Mr. Brown:

Your After-Nomination Statement ran as follows:

"I have made certain issues. They are clear to everybody. I shall repeat them and give evidence to the voters before election."

REAL EVIDENCE IS TRUTH

And I will insist that you give evidence which will be the truth and the whole truth. Glib and lurid talk upon the street corner will not go unchallenged.

You are to contest with me for the honorable office of Mayor and you are at liberty to use all honorable means to be elected. But—and we may as well understand each other now—you are going to stick to facts and not fancies in this campaign.

I prize my character and reputation in this community far more than I do the office of Mayor, and I am not going to allow you to unjustly assail them.

If you act otherwise, be prepared to answer a few POINTED and PERTINENT questions yourself, that no amount of pleading for sympathy or claims of persecution will avoid.

I am going to see to it that you are a candidate for Mayor in your true colors in this campaign, and in doing so I assure you, Mr. Brown, I shall speak only the TRUTH.

Signed,
PERRY D. THOMPSON,
185 Andover Street.

Six Killed in Head-on Collision

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 1.—Six persons were killed in a head-on collision early today between the east-bound Portland-Spokane Limited and west-bound Oregon-Washington Limited trains of the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation Co., two miles west of Celilo. Twenty-two persons were injured. Among the dead is A. H. McBride, a marine who was guarding the mail on one of the trains. The others who were killed were two trainmen and three Oregon passengers.

U. S. Advisor to Meet Foreign Bankers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Decision has been reached by the Federal Reserve board to send an advisor to the forthcoming conference of foreign bankers called by the reparations commission to discuss exchange stabilization, it was said officially today, at the treasury.

2 New Bedford Children Burned to Death

NEW BEDFORD, Dec. 1.—Two children were burned to death and five other members of the family of Henry Lytle narrowly escaped death early this morning when fire destroyed their home on Phillips road. The children, Alice aged two, and Henry, Jr., aged seven, were completely enveloped by the blaze when the fire was discovered. Other members of the family jumped from windows.

Former German Liner Sold by Ship Board

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The steel steamship Callao, formerly a German cargo and passenger ship but later an army transport, was sold yesterday by the shipping board to Robert Dollar of San Francisco for $375,000 cash. It will probably be taken to the Pacific for use in foreign trade.

SCENES AT FAMOUS SURGEON'S FREE CLINIC

Thousands of parents have appealed to Dr. Adolph Lorenz, Viennese orthopedic surgeon, to straighten and strengthen the limbs of their children since he arrived in New York. He has been so busy that he does not stop for meals during clinic, just taking a snatch of bread and coffee between operations and examinations. Hundreds stormed the doors of the hospital for joint diseases. It being unsafe to open the doors to so many, Dr. Herman C. Gruenthal, founder and chief surgeon of the hospital, handed out admission cards through a window. Mothers became weary holding their afflicted offspring through the long wait and here you see a kindly cop relieving a mother of her precious burden.

Old Y.M.C.A. Members WILL BE INTERESTED TO KNOW

That we have made the old Y. M. C. A. Hall into two floors. It may be of further interest to them to know that we have made the old gymnasium building of two floors, gymnasium and hall, into a five-story building. The basement is used for storage of Crawford Ranges and Parlor Stoves. The first floor for Rugs and Linoleums; the second floor for Beds and Bedding; the third floor for Dining Room Suites; and the fourth for odd Chairs and Rockers. At a slight cost this old building, on cheap land, on a side street, has been made into a vast, handsome store, making the overhead very low. It enables us to make Lower Prices on Furniture. That brings the crowds of buyers. So we both benefit. Of a failure that everybody predicted when we moved from Merrimack Square (now Lieut. Paul T. Kearney Square), after being there 21 years, we have made it a wonderful success. We cordially invite all Y. M. C. A. members to come in and inspect the changes we have made in their old building.

Worcester Recovering From Storm

WORCESTER, Dec. 1.—This city began today to show real signs of recovery from the effects of the sleet storm. Trolley service in the center of the city was resumed but the company is handicapped for power by the collapse of the transmission system on the Connecticut River Power Co., many of whose big steel towers are down and others so badly bent they will have to be repaired before wires can be strung. It is estimated that 150 tons of wire will be needed to restore the trolley, telephone and telegraph services to normal conditions.

Buell Elected Captain of Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 1.—Charles C. Buell of Hartford, Conn., was elected captain of the Harvard varsity football team today. He had played at quarterback for the past two seasons, and was one of the stars in the game which Harvard won from Yale this year. Buell was one of several candidates but his election was announced as unanimous.

Former Dry Officer Kaplan Sentenced

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Louis Kaplan, a former prohibition enforcement officer, was sentenced to two months in the house of correction by the municipal court today for soliciting a bribe. It was testified that he had arranged with Cornelius Spellacy, keeper of a South End saloon, to make no appearance against him on charges pending in the superior court, if he would pay him $100. Kaplan appealed the sentence today.

LOWELL MAN GETS JAIL SENTENCE

Louis Whipple, of this city, charged with entering the building of the Muskegon mill of the United States Forest company in Lowell the night of Sept. 23 with intent to commit a felony and with slashing with a knife woolen cloth valued at about $5000, was found guilty by a jury in the superior criminal court at Cambridge this afternoon and sentenced to two years in jail by Judge Brown.

INFANT MORTALITY

The infant mortality records at the board of health office show that during the month of November there were 22 deaths of children under one year of age, and in the same period 216 births were reported. This shows a death rate of about 95 to the thousand, which is about the best for the month of November in the history of the local office. In November, 1920, there were 29 deaths and in the same month in 1919 25 deaths.

GROCERS IN MEETING
The retail grocers met last night in the chamber of commerce but little of importance outside of regular routine business was transacted.

SACCO-VANZETTI CASE

BEDFORD, Dec. 1.—Judge Webster Thayer of the superior court today extended until Dec. 20 the time allowed counsel for Nicola Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti to file a petition based on exceptions taken by them during the trial in which the men were found guilty of murder in the first degree, for the killing of a paymaster and his guard at South Braintree. The time limit originally set expired today. Dist. Atty. Frederick G. Kazmann agreed to the motion for an extension which defense counsel explained was made in order to allow them further time to prepare and file the necessary papers. Decision of Judge Thayer in a motion for a new trial is still pending. Meanwhile sentence of the convicted men has been deferred.

SOMETHING DOING EVERY MINUTE

While the election commission has been conducting the majority recount, the office of the commission in the basement of city hall has not been idle, for a flood of initiative petitions has come in to be checked up. These petitions concern two measures advocated by Simon Swig of Boston and others; one relating to the monthly computation of interest by savings banks, instead of semi-annual, as at present; the other aimed at giving the depositors in savings institutions a voice in the election of the directorate.

Miss Mary Mahoney, office clerk of the commission, has been busily engaged in checking up the signatures all day, and has a considerable task on her hands before the work is finished.

PLACED ON PROBATION
Herbert T. and John Lough, brothers, who were charged with breaking and entering a camp in Traskboro last April, and who were held for the grand jury after a hearing at the district court, were both placed on probation at the criminal session of the superior court in East Cambridge yesterday. They were represented by J. Joseph Hennessy.

BRUSA MILITARY BASE

Turks Prosper From Greek Occupation of Old Capital of Bythina

BRUSA, Asiatic Turkey, Dec. 1.—After 600 years of Turkish occupation, Brusa is again under the dominion of its ancient owners, the Greeks. With the exception of the first six sovereigns of the Ottoman dynasty, thousands of Greek troops are quartered, and the old capital of Bythina has every appearance of a great modern military base.

Trade is flourishing. The hotels are crowded with business men, living is cheap. The Greek occupation has brought about a distinct revival of local commerce.

The Turkish merchants find the Greek soldiers good customers, and they are waxing rich on them. They have also found the Greek government good buyers. Some of them have closed large contracts for the feeding and equipment of King Constantine's Anatolian army. Others may be glad to see the Greeks go, but not Brusa's tradespeople. They have enjoyed no such prosperity in years.

Brusa lies on the slopes of verdant Mount Olympus, 50 miles southeast of Constantinople. It is considered the most beautiful as well as the most healthful city in the Turkish empire. King Constantine selected it as his home during his recent visit to Asia Minor. It is noted for its mineral baths and its silk products.

According to popular belief, it has a mosque and a promenade for every day in the year, so that one need pray or walk in the same place only once a year.

The city's population, which numbers about 100,000, is a bewildering mixture of Asiatic and European nationalities. One sees in the public square and the narrow cobbled streets groups of commercial travelers, tourists, holy men, scholars, dervishes, janissaries, eunuchs, veiled women, princes and paupers, millionaires and mendicants, soldiers and spies.

The market-place is a babel of tongues. Gentile and Jew, Moslem and Greek, Levantine and European rub elbows and speak each other's languages. They care little whether the Greek army or the Turkish army occupies the town; they want to be left in peace and allowed to pursue their wonted callings.

The port of Brusa is Mudania, on the Sea of Marmora, an hour's ride by narrow-gauge railroad from Brusa. Mudania is an important military base for the Greeks. Scores of army transports with men, munitions and sup-

TO DANCE FOR PRESIDENT

Ruth Hanson Correll, 12, will make the first dive into a new swimming pool for kiddies in Washington, for which the largest donation was made by President Harding. She will also dance before the president at a society pageant following the opening of the pool.

Plies arrive weekly for the Anatolian front. During the recent operations near Angora, Mudania was the main artery of supply for the Greek troops. Thousands of Greek and Armenian refugees, fearing Turkish nationalist reprisals, have sought shelter within the city of Brusa.

RUSSIAN WAGE SCALE
50 CENTS A MONTH

MOSCOW. (By a staff correspondent of the Associated Press).—The Russian wage scale under present conditions is more puzzling than a fever chart. Every workman tells a different tale.

Apparently the standard wage for an average workman at the present time is about 50,000 rubles a month, at which time of writing is roughly equivalent to 60 cents. That is the wage of a workman employed by the government. But in addition there is a great variety of perquisites, if he gets them.

"I am supposed to get a pound of bread a day, also free car rides between 8 and 10 in the morning and 4 and 7 in the afternoon. I am also supposed to get clothing and shoe allowance, but I get the orders for these things and that the supply is exhausted," one workman who is employed with the American relief administration explained to the Associated Press correspondent.

"Oh, yes, I get free theatre and concert tickets, too," he added.

When pressed to tell whether that was the entire amount of his income, the man admitted that he held two jobs under the government and sometimes got bread at two places. He knew of men who held three jobs and managed to keep themselves on three government payrolls. That was the only way it was possible to get enough to live on.

It is apparently very easy to hold a government position without giving many hours to the service, and consequently the positions are held to a considerable extent for the purpose of getting rations. Government employees engage in all other sorts of work. They run shops, sell their belongings in the markets, deal in wood, drive cabs and take real estate commissions. Russians of high and low degree have undoubtedly acquired a great deal of money since under the Bolshevik regime and the avidity with which they are taking to trade indicates that they will be less thrifty than in old times. Children, particularly, are showing themselves to be sharp traders.

SANTA CLAUS BUREAU STARTED

The Santa Claus bureau of the Girls' city club, is getting under way for Christmas again. This year's bureau will do work on a little different scale than formerly. In 1919, 200 families were supplied with toys or clothing, after having been visited by the investigating committee. Last year 500 families were cared for. This year so many distressing stories of want and privation have reached the bureau that it seemed advisable to confine the Christmas gifts to Xmas dinners and clothing. While the bureau was grieving that perhaps its families might be left without a single Xmas toy for the little ones, a committee of girls from the State Normal school voluntarily knocked on Santa's door and said it would gladly provide gifts for the children of our needy friends. Last year the Normal School girls dressed 65 dolls for the Girls' club and their offer this year is most opportune and welcome.

The committee will co-operate in its work with the Lowell Social Service and other social agencies in order to avoid duplication.

The Santa Claus bureau is made possible through the efforts of the Girls' City club together with the generosity of its friends and the friends of the poor and needy. The most important part of the work at present is to secure funds sufficient to care for the number of families already on the list. The committee has arranged a party and dance for Thursday, Dec. 1.

The public may help in this good work not only by attending the party but by cash contributions, clothes, shoes, vegetables, fruit, candy, and the many things which go to make a well filled Christmas basket.

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show these few lines to anybody." Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives. Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly." Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:

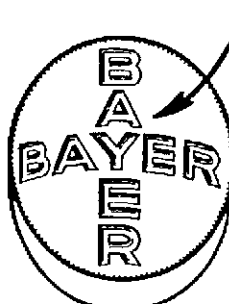

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial." Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regrettably looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

CANADA AND THE TARIFF

The protective tariff issue at the coming general elections in Canada on December 7, is one that is uppermost, and the three major political parties and several lesser groups in the great country to the north are waging a merry contest for the 235 parliamentary seats. There is a so-called farmers' movement there, opposed to "class legislation." There are high and low tariff warriors. Reciprocity is desired by all parties, but how far the protection plans should extend is the subject for unspoken comment by the thoughtful leaders. The Liberal party wants reciprocity and lower tariff imposts.

Premier Arthur Meighen is basing his campaign upon the main issues as he sees them. He warns the electors that a Liberal success would mean a lowering of the tariff walls and consequent destruction of "Canadian" industries through American competition. Regarding the tariff, Mr. Crerar, leader of the national progressives, declares that he is opposed to the principle of protection as being neither sound economically nor right morally. His policy, or rather that of the "progressives," is development of the natural resources, through agriculture, forestry and of mining.

The situation in a nutshell, is that the manufacturing cities in eastern Canada are protectionist, and the farmers of the west, who have to sell their produce in the markets of the world, are free-traders. There are no great leaders like Sir John A. Macdonald or Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Canada today, no one yet big enough to cause the various sections of the great dominion to slink their differences for the common good. And yet as Americans know the Canadian people with their energy, their sturdiness and their great sense of loyalty and industry, the old dominion across the border may yet develop a man of the hour and a public conscience capable of appreciating him when they find him.

Americans will await the outcome of the December 7 general elections with more than passing interest this year.

GHOSTS FROM THE HAGUE

Is the disarmament conference at Washington following the shadows of the first Hague conference? How many recall that Russia of the olden days was responsible for that conference which the world watched with feelings of genuine hope and confidence? The call for disarmament at that time came from the Russian government, the result of the late czar's circular note being an international conference which was held in 1899 at the Hague. Although the prime purpose of the conference was to come to a real agreement on limitation of armaments, this objective soon fell by the way side. Nothing happened. The secretary of state at Washington received, later on, this report from the American delegates giving the attitude of the conference on the armament question:

"While much interest was shown in the discussions of the first great committee of the conference, and still more in those of the second, the main interest of the whole body centered more and more in the third. It was felt that a provision for arbitration and its cognate subjects is the logical precursor of the limitation of standing armies and budgets and that the true logical order is first, arbitration, and then disarmament."

Arbitration first, but keep up the armaments to be prepared for eventualities. That was the feeling in 1899, when the world met at the conference table. Will the present members of the conference at Washington follow that precedent or smash it? The question seems to be whether to reduce armaments first and clinch international guarantees second, or vice versa. A simple enough problem to the lay reader, but a mighty interesting and vital one to the powers that appear to be waiting like Wilkins Micawber, "for something to turn up."

SURGERY OF TREES

There is much solicitude as to the fate of the damaged trees. They require first aid treatment, to be followed by a process of surgery for permanent recovery. Where some of the top branches of older trees have been broken off, leaving ghastly spurs like shattered bones, pointing upward, chains of Ethiopian civilization. As there is doubt as to the recuperation of any such tree unless it be in a healthy condition and unless it also receives skillful treatment of the tree men.

It is too much to expect that the park department can perform the necessary operation on the tops of all the street trees injured in this way. In many cases, it would be very difficult and dangerous to do so. For the younger trees damaged, there is more hope of complete recovery after they shall have been properly trimmed. There was much discussion as to whether the trees that were bent to the ground would recover their natural position. The older trees will, but with the young there is much to be said for the fact that the old adage, "Just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclination." Doubtless the park department will require a liberal appropriation if it undertakes to carry out the work of giving general attention to all the trees under its control that have been damaged throughout the city. The number is amazing.

RUNNING A CITY

The figures just issued by the National Security League showing the per capita municipal expenditures in 45 large American cities in the year, 1919, make somewhat interesting reading at this time when retrenchment is the watchword in city as well as state and national affairs. Denver, great men. King Albert sets the example, tops the list with a per capita ample in this respect.

SEEN AND HEARD

Every autist knows what the chain gang is. The common symptoms of senility are not apparent on the coasting hills. England's fondness for Ulster would be natural enough about now, anyhow.

They cannot furnish the memory of Christine Nilsson's liquid song even in a legal way.

The football mob departs, but the Merrimack square car-rushers are always with us.

Thrifty congressmen! By adjourning congress last week, they get another bunch of extra mileage. There's economy for you right at the bungalow!

John Harvard would be 314 years old if he had lived until Sunday, but football game at him early.

Mr. Herbert's Reply
Sir Herbert Tree met a stranger in the wings after a performance. The man was cheap and effusive and rushed toward him with hands outstretched. Tree gazed at him calmly. "Don't you know me?" said the stranger as if hurt. "I was introduced to you the other day at the charity bazaar."

"Sorry," Tree replied. "I didn't recognize you in my makeup."

Good Company Now
A Scotsman arrived in London so incognito that he was arrested. "I felt into had company," he said, excusing himself in the police court. "What had company?" asked the magistrate. "I came down from Edinburgh last night," the Scot replied, "with a bottle of whisky and three teetotalers. So I had to drink it all myself."

Robbing It In
A countryman went to London to visit some relatives and to see the sights. He remained until patience upon the part of his hosts, a married couple, ceased to be a virtue. "Don't you think my dear fellow?" remarked the husband one day, "that your wife and children must miss you?" No doubt. Thanks for the suggestion, I'll send for them.

The Boy's Prospect
The wealthy uncle was talking over the prospect of his nephew with the boy's mother. "How is he doing with his studies?" "O, very well. He's very intelligent; he shows a great talent for music and his manner is very haughty. His teacher thinks he will become a conductor." "Ah! Indeed?" responded his uncle. "bus or trolley car?"

Banking Scandal
Dr. George E. Vincent, head of the Rockefeller Foundation's general education board, was discussing banking scandal. "The banker has now gone off to South America," he said, "and it is announced to recuperate from an attack of influenza." Dr. Vincent laughed grimly. "I've heard of that kind of influenza before," he said. "It comes from cold feet, due to exposure."

Intelligent Guide
In Rouen a party of English tourists were taken in hand by a Maltese guide who spoke half a dozen languages with equal fluency and recklessness. He led them into the beautiful foreground of the courts of justice, and said: "Are you 'ave ladies and gentlemen, all sorts of architecture—about it and don't don't, so come on! And on they went."

The Wall of the Sleepless
Honk, honk, honk.
As you speed along through the night!
And I would you could hear me utter
My curses upon your flight.

O woe to the hasty car
As it scatters its stench on the breeze
The chauffeur lad
As he opens his cut-out and flees!

And the rushing cars go on
To the road up on the hill
But O for a bed on a desert isle
And a single night that is still!

Honk, honk, honk.
With your cars of speed-mad men!
But the peaceful sleep of the nights
That are past
Will never come back again.
—MARGARET K. MOORE in Farm Life.

FOR THE FARMERS

Farmers are wondering how much they will benefit by the 10 per cent reduction in carload freight rates on farm products.

Possibly the best answer comes from the railroads, which say the cut will cost them $55,000,000 a year.

Divide that up among our 8,500,000 farms and the average farmer's gain would be $5.45 a year. That is, if the farmer gets it.

The reduction is so slight that apparently it is not apt to make any material change either in what the farmer gets or the consumer pays.

Discovery of the tombs of twenty-six generations of Ethiopian kings, dating back 2000 years, is the claim made by the joint Egyptian commission of Harvard and Boston Museum of Fine Arts. This discovery will supply a missing link in the historic chain of Ethiopian civilization. As there is doubt as to the recuperation of any such tree unless it be in a healthy condition and unless it also receives skillful treatment of the tree men.

Lord Curzon's speech attacking France seems to have had a discouraging effect upon the arms conference at Washington. Jealousy between England and France and between Japan and the United States is likely to bring the conference to naught.

Secretary Hughes had better withdraw his offer to scrap ships and see what other plan the powers have to offer. They are unwilling to accept that.

It is not likely that accounts would make any difference in the announced results of the primaries. Where the difference in the vote of two candidates is very small, say ten or a dozen votes, there might be a good reason for a recount. As it is, the people have had all the recounts they desire.

The fever to send our greatest fighting dreadnaughts to the scrap heap seems a bit far fetched even in these times of proffered brotherly love. Why not stop building and hold the status quo?

General Baron Jacques of Belgium, reading at this time when retrenchment is the watchword in city as well as state and national affairs. Denver, great men. King Albert sets the example, tops the list with a per capita ample in this respect.

Col. tops the list with a per capita ample in this respect.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

There is abundant food for reflection in that masterly address of Philip Harris before the "Philo Club," food for thought for all classes, for the rich, the poor and everyone who seeks self improvement. The opportunities for education are open on all sides; the demand for educated, trained men and women is persistent and insistent; and young men, especially, do not have to "go west," as Greeley said, for the culmination of their education, for we have the vehicle for the attainment of many an ambition in unrivalled opportunities for education in the law, engineering, accountancy, textile work and other branches within the reach of all.

Lowellites who have summered at Hampton will miss the zealous, energetic Fr. Scott, who has been promoted to the pastorate of a church in Kenne, N. H. It is not a far cry back to the times when Catholics worshipped on Sundays in the old Casino hall at the beach, and it can be said without exaggeration that the erection of the Catholic church at Hampton is directly traceable to Fr. Scott's marvelous capacity for work, his energy and his ability as an organizer. I believe Lowell people helped him out immeasurably in the initial plans; one of them, Thomas P. McKay, was a faithful worker.

One cannot attend band concerts or oratorios by the choral society here without being impressed by the fact that if all the musicians of the city, male and female, were gathered in a monster organization, what an accomplishment it would be for the finest in music. My mind runs to many things, and as I sit in the Strand a few weeks ago, I wonder if the young ladies in both musical organizations have achieved success at a sacrifice of their time, and their work is the result of faithful and painstaking work. In an endeavor to foster the finest in music and inspire those who may listen.

One of the commendable charities in the city, doing good work without ostentation or display, is St. Peter's orphanage, and the announcement that Saturday will be the annual "Donation day" ought to bring, as of yore, a hearty and generous response to the demands of the institution. The little tots are comfortably ensconced in a splendidly appointed building in Stevens street, and under the most inspiring and wholesome environment are being trained as befits any worth while boy or girl. The St. Peter's Orphanage association, headed by such men as Hon. James B. Casey, William A. Hogan, Dr. James B. O'Connor, John A. Connor and others, have done splendid work in furnishing places in the summer villages, playground equipment, etc., and it is confidently expected that the donations of food, clothing and necessities will be such as will bring joy to the hearts of the good sisters at the orphanage. Rev. Charles J. Galligan, the energetic pastor of St. Margaret's, is deeply interested in the orphanage, his home, his life, his aspirations—and I am glad that he anticipates Saturday's function to be eminently successful in more than one way.

At this juncture Albert Wolcott, a fellow longshoreman, jumped from the pier, reached the struggling man with a few powerful strokes, disengaged him and towed him back to the dock. Admiral Beatty and hundreds of passengers on deck cheered wildly.

BEATTY WITNESSED THRILLING RESCUE

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The thrilling rescue of Ernest Williams, a negro longshoreman, was witnessed by Admiral Earl Beatty, first sea lord of the British admiralty, as he stood on the deck of the White Star liner Adriatic, returning to England.

Shortly after Admiral Beatty and his party boarded the ship the longshoreman who was carrying a hand-lamp attached to the ship's ladders, became entangled in the rope and was dragged from the dock. As the huge vessel backed away the man became more and more entangled until he was on deck began to despair of his rescue.

At this juncture Albert Wolcott, a fellow longshoreman, jumped from the pier, reached the struggling man with a few powerful strokes, disengaged him and towed him back to the dock. Admiral Beatty and hundreds of passengers on deck cheered wildly.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles Conquered

For 10 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing Marshall's for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price, on the name of Dr. Carey's Marshall's.

Dr. Carey's Marshall's is a powerful diuretic of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health. Watch the symptoms, if you have specks floating before the eyes, puffiness, plummy feet or moist pains, backache or shivering, you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshall's right away.

It has wonderfully benefited tens of thousands of cases of kidney and bladder troubles and is the medicine you can always depend upon. No cure, no money back.

Dr. Daniel G. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his great Prescription, Marshall's, after thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. Hereafter you can always get this effective prescription from the local druggist or from Dr. Howard, 137 Central St., A. W. Down, drug store and all reliable pharmacists the country over. Keep in mind the name of Dr. Carey's Marshall's. No other medicine can take its place. —Adv.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem THE ONE WAY BILL

Each day upon the market pages the figures show
That table provender and wages are setting low:
Yet when I feed my face, anon,
Blood anywhere
The price doesn't show upon
The bill of fare.

The owners of the restaurants.
It's plain to see,
Are all purveying to our wants
So justly
They haven't any time to read
The daily press.
And so don't know the price of feed
Is getting less.

They err through simple ignorance
Beyond a doubt;
Though when food starts in to advance
They'll find it out.

"They'll sense the market's upward range,
And then and there,
You'll see the prices quickly change
On bills of fare!"

(Copyright, 1921, The Lowell Sun)

DON'T SIT ON MY HAWT! CRIES SIR GEORGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—"Don't sit on my hawt! Don't sit on my hawt!"—that's how Lord George Riddle of the British admiralty delegation at the arms limitation conference made his call.

But when the hawt removed from danger, Lord George will wax intimate. He'll tell this one:

"Here's how I made my first money: I served a writ on a collector of rare books. He showed me part of a set and said he wanted the rest. That afternoon I bought them in a second-hand shop for sixpence and sold 'em for 200 pounds. Ripping, eh?"

—DON'T SIT ON MY HAWT!

Lord George's nationality? You guessed it—He's Scotch.

Madame Viviani can't sit on American chairs. She's a little mite of a person and she has to perch precariously on the edge of a chair if she wants her feet on the floor.

"Ze American chairs—ze don't built for me!" she complains.

Sir Robert Borden, former premier of Canada, has more trouble finding his way than adjusting the most delicate diplomatic problems.

Or rather—his wife, Lady Laura, has the trouble of finding them. Usually she finds them under his silk hat!

A gigantic body. Big, powerful hands. A slump when he sits down. A deep, throaty, genial laugh. That's Dr. W. W. Harding, pastor of Harding's church. He offered the opening prayer of the conference.

"Mother used to tell me she wished I knew more names of missionaries and fewer names of baseball stars when I was a boy," he says. "I started out to be a civil engineer and turned out a Baptist minister."

Abraham, who preaches for the president and preys in the presence of the world's greatest men, was so timid as a youth that his instructors despaired of teaching him public speaking.

Washington's taxi drivers are off the conference for good.

Whereas they expected a rich harvest with foreign officials darting hither and thither in taxis and easily misled in the matter of fare and change, the visitors are supplied first with army automobiles and chauffeurs.

And, alas, there's no business doing "the side." Having diplomatic status and bringing their supplies of liquor with them, the visitors furnish no market for the bottled goods which some drivers carry as a side line.

"What do you think of American speed?" a correspondent asked a member of the French delegation. "Does it live up to its reputation?"

"Ah—yes," was the answer. "But it's all set back to be. Ze prayer of Mistrater Abernathy, for instance, opening ze conference. Ze was printed and given out een advance, so zat it reached ze newspapers even before ze reached God!"

This Will Hays of England. That's Sir Arthur Willert of the British delegation. You've seen Will Hays pacing back and forth while he hurls forth words with amazing speed? Just so Sir Arthur.

"Ah, sit down! Do sit down!" he says. And then he takes up the endless trek from one side of the room to the other, talking the while.

OBJECTS RESEMBLING MINES FOUND

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—The finding by coast guards on the shores of Ipswich Bay of two cylindrical objects resembling mines, was reported to coast guard headquarters here today. They were described as 18 inches long and eight inches in diameter, with two screw plugs at the top and two rings near the top with four knobs protruding.

GUILLOTINE FOR LANDRU

"Bluebeard of Gambais" Found Guilty of Murder in First Degree

VERSAILLES, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press) Henri Degès, Landru, "the Bluebeard of Gambais," smiled last night for the first time since his trial opened. A flickering expression of amusement crossed his face as he listened to the words of Judge Gilber, sending him to the guillotine for a series of the most heinous crimes in the history of French jurisprudence.

"Thank you, gentlemen," said Landru, flourishing his weather-beaten hat in a mocking bow to the jury, and he disappeared through the little door leading to the Versailles jail.

He refused to be a party to a petition asking President Millerand to commute the sentence to life imprisonment, which was signed among others by the jurors.

"I refuse to ask for mercy," he told the latter. "A man like me wants justice, not mercy. You think I am guilty? Then let me die."

His remarks after reaching the cell were also characteristic of this strange character, the record of whose gruesome deeds as unfolded in the dinky Versailles courtroom has drawn the attention of all France and of thousands of persons in other countries.

"It has been a great show," he said. "I hope the public is satisfied. I give you a rendezvous for the end of February or the beginning of March to show you how my innocent man dies."

M. Moro-Giafferi, counsel for the defense, in an eloquent plea, finished his summing up yesterday afternoon. M. Moro-Giafferi cast doubt on all the evidence produced by the prosecution. He reminded the jury a person could be proclaimed legally dead only when he had been missing 30 years.

"What a slayer, yes, an assassin, never!" exclaimed M. Moro-Giafferi, looking toward the jury and at the same time pointing toward Landru. He added that the prosecution had the only of Landru identifying his alleged victims corroborated the theory that Landru probably had sent the women abroad with false papers in "white slave" traffic.

"These women all are alive," said M. Moro-Giafferi, referring to the 10 women Landru was charged with killing. "You have how innocent man dies," whereabout known. Make a thorough search of the United States and Brazil, Argentina and other South American countries and you will find Landru's so-called victims."

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Business men must organize and defend themselves "to overcome the baneful effects of the agricultural block in congress," Otto H. Kahn, banker, declared in a letter to the committee of American business men made public yesterday.

Business, he asserted, stands in need of a spokesman and organizer but, he added that he did not contemplate forming a business bloc in congress. Bloes, he said, "are pernicious and not comfortable to the genius and the very underlying conceptions of our institutions."

"If mean," he added, explaining his plan, "an intelligent and effective representation of the aim and ideas of business in public affairs, and a corresponding attitude in primary and electoral campaigns; not in order to promote selfishly and narrowly class advantage of business and capital, but in order to prevent the ascendancy of selfish and narrow class and sectional interests of crude notions or demagogic appeal and thus aid in furthering the welfare and progress of the nation."

AIRPLANES COLLIDE, FOUR KILLED

LAWTON, Okla., Dec. 1.—Four army aviators, two officers and two privates, were killed yesterday when the two airplanes in which they were performing combat duty drills collided while at an altitude of 2000 feet, and crashed to earth near the post field, Fort Sill, Okla.

There are more blind persons, it is estimated, among the Spaniards than any other European race.

IS YOUR BLOOD THIN?

Do you envy others their health? Some people rarely have a sick day. Many women keep their pink cheeks well into advanced age. Exposure which will bring some people to their beds will not do any harm to the healthy. Generally speaking the rugged, healthy people are those whose blood is rich and red.

Proper food, sufficient sunlight and out-of-door exercise keep the blood supply up to normal in healthy people. But if for any reason the blood becomes thin the right tonic is needed to restore it.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain the elements necessary to make new blood and, as the nerves get their nourishment from the blood, have been found invaluable in a wide range of disorders of the blood and nerves, such as rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers, neuritis and nervous debility.

A valuable booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free upon request. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.—Adv.

INTERESTING ADDRESS

Dr. Alan A. Stockdale of Toledo Addresses Down Town Men's Club

"Humor can be very cruel or it can be very kind. It can hurt or it can help. There is something marvelous which comes from God Himself, which we call humor, and which turns the corner of your mouth up. Watch for it," advised Dr. Alan A. Stockdale of Toledo, O., who gave an exceedingly interesting address to a large audience in the First Congregational church last evening. The pastor's subject was "Should the Corners of the Mouth Turn Up or Down?" The lecture was one of those in the star course being given under the auspices of the Down-Town Men's club, and for genuine interest and wisdom, it would be hard to find an equal. Dr. Stockdale kept the audience in roars of laughter every few minutes, as he sent his messages home. He has a remarkable power of impersonation, changing his facial expressions quickly to conform with the passions of love, fear, jealousy, resignation and scorn. His friends have always called him a born actor, and he employs his rare gifts in his pulpit and club talks with excellent results. The pastor introduced some of "the invisible sculptures" that frequently "turn the mouth down." He spoke of the over-strained, nervous tension of the American people. "A careful study of the faces shows that the great masters of the world gave their greatest contributions between the ages of 60 and 70. Now, in America, our strong business men are breaking down between 32 and 64. When any nation breaks down its men at that age, it will suffer." He advised fathers to chum with their children. "It is not enough to pay the bills. You want to be real companions to these kiddies. They are the missionaries of sunshine. Be reverent when you come into the presence of the child's imagination. This is the thing that saves us from the utter monotony of adult life." The speaker closed his address, say-

Take Mastin's Yeast Vitamon If You Want Firm Flesh "Pep"

EASY AND ECONOMICAL—RESULTS QUICK.

This run-down folks who find that business is bad and employment is scarce should try taking two of Mastin's yeast VITAMON Tablets with their meals for a short time and watch how their physical and financial conditions improve.

Mastin's VITAMON Tablets supply in highly concentrated form true yeast vitamins in a combination with the other health-giving vitamins which Science says you must have to be strong, well and fully developed. If you are weak, thin, pale, generally run-down, or feel lacking in brain power and ambition, and want that firm flesh "pep" which goes the money, you surely need some of these precious vitamins in your system at once. Mastin's VITAMON mixes with your food, helps it to digest and supplies just what your body needs to feed and nourish the shrunken tissues, the worn-out nerves, the thin blood and the starved brain. Mastin's VITAMON Tablets will not cause gas or upset the stomach, but strengthen the digestive and intestinal tract and help to correct even chronic constipation. They are easy and economical to take and so quick and remarkable are the results that complete satisfaction is absolutely guaranteed or the small amount you pay for the trial will be promptly refunded. Be sure to remember the name—Mastin's VITAMON—the original and genuine yeast-vitamin tablet. There is nothing else like it, so do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get Mastin's VITAMON Tablets at all good druggists, such as

NO HOPE FOR FIVE CENT FARE HERE

Several days ago Mayor Thompson wrote to the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company, asking that the fare unit in this city be reduced to five cents, since a twenty-ride ticket is being sold for $1 in Fall River at the present time. In reply to his letter, he has received a communication from Chairman Homer Loring of the trustees, stating that such a decrease is impossible just now. Mr. Loring's letter follows:

BOSTON, Nov. 28, 1921.
Hon. Perry D. Thompson, Mayor, Lowell, Mass.,
Dear Mr. Mayor:
Your letter dated November 25th referring to the twenty-ride punch-card ticket in Fall River, was received in this office today. The reason for the introduction of the five cent fare in this form in Fall River is easily understood. During the period of public control, the Fall River district has always been operated without a deficit, and now has a surplus of $62,565.25 for the period from January 1, 1920, to November 1, 1921. On the other hand, Lowell has a deficit of $52,329.54 for the same period.

The Lowell district, however, is showing steady improvement and we earnestly hope that it will be possible to further reduce the fares in that district when industrial conditions are better. The lower we can make the fares the better pleased we naturally are. As a business man and mayor of your city, of course you know we cannot operate this road in defiance of the rules of profit and loss.

Under the law we cannot charge higher fares than our receipts warrant, and, moreover, we have no desire to do so.

Mayors of cities like yours who are obliged to shoulder criticism for high tax rates, although they may be in no way responsible for the same, can especially appreciate the position we are in.

The public control act plainly states that we must make both ends meet and that is what we are trying to do and still give the best service possible. No other course is open to us.

We are thankful to you for your cooperation and hope you will feel that whenever we can reduce fares in Lowell, we will gladly do so.

Yours very truly,
HOMER LORING,
Chairman of Trustees, Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co.

CAPT. GUSTAFSON BATTALION HEAD

Lieut. Edward Twohey, commanding officer of the First Battalion, Headquarters detachment and Combat Train, was relieved of his duties at the weekly drill session of the outfit at the armory last night and Capt. Gustafson, commanding officer of Battery B, was transferred to the command of the battalion. The change came about owing to a three months trip to Ohio to be made shortly by Lieut. Twohey. Lieut. George Phaneuf was placed in command of the battery to succeed Capt. Gustafson.

As a result of the transfers it was announced last evening that four vacancies in the commissioned ranks now exist and a call to ex-artillery officers was sounded.

Six candidates for the Battery were accepted after a rigid medical examination by Major Hodkins, of Boston.

Four of the six were ex-service men and one, William Fernley, of 25 Dutton street, has had 10 years' service in the regular army.

KEENE, N. H., Dec. 1.—Dr. John F. Butler, 91 years old, the oldest physician in Cheshire county and one of the veteran doctors in the state, died here yesterday. He was in active service more than 65 years. He served throughout the Civil war and was present at the surrender of Lee at Appomattox.

studies, but now her reports were so good that her teacher called on me to find out why she had gone back so in her lessons. When I asked her why she had failed, so in her school work she cried and said she studied as hard as ever, but couldn't seem to remember. Only a mother can understand what I suffered when I saw my daughter slowly, but surely, fading away each day. I could hardly keep back the tears when I looked at her.

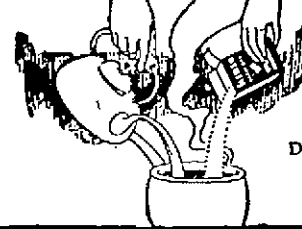

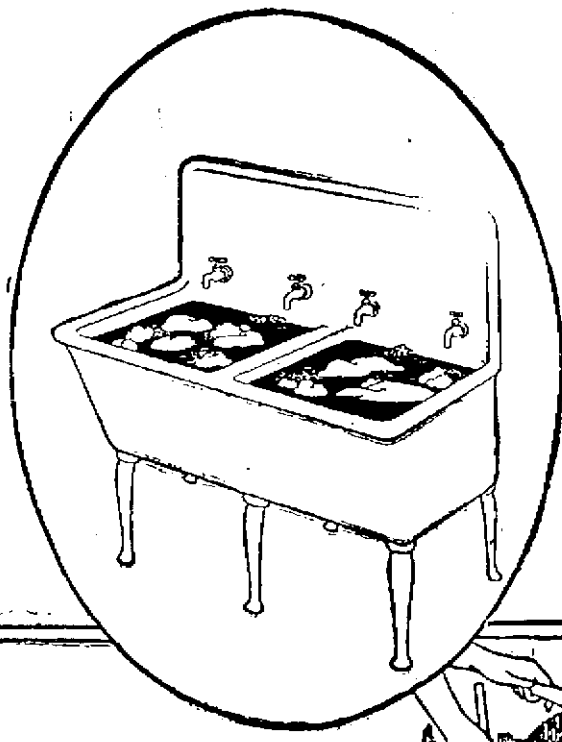

"Six months ago we took her out of school, thinking this might help her, but she continued to grow worse. We were told she would get better when she got older, but I was afraid she couldn't live and have shed many a tear over her condition. In fact, my husband and myself, both, were downright sick from worry over her, and yet, nothing did her any good."

"One day my husband said, 'Why not have Mary try Tanlac? Each morning I have read in the papers of someone being helped by it and it may be what she needs.'"

"Well, I had tried everything else, so as a last resort I had Mary try Tanlac and I have felt thankful a thousand times that I did. Before she finished the first bottle she was eating like I have been wanting to see her eat for three years. Now she is the first to the table and the last to leave. She has gained 15 pounds and is still gaining, and her face is as rosy and as healthy as it ever was. Her eyes sparkle with health, her steps are light and she is as full of life as a kitten. It does my heart good to hear her running around, singing and laughing and enjoying life and good health again. My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store under the personal direction of Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; D. Falls, Chelmsford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

FOR DISBARMENT OF N. A. TUFTS

Petition Filed in Supreme Court by Middlesex Bar Association

Charges Tufts Testified Falsely at Trial Which Resulted in His Removal

CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 1.—A petition for disbarment of Nathan A. Tufts, deposited recently as district attorney of Middlesex county, charging deceit, malpractice and other gross misconduct in the performance of his duties as an attorney at law, was filed in the supreme court here today by the grievance committee of the Middlesex Bar Association.

The petition, which is signed by Gilbert A. A. Peavey, chairman, and other members of the grievance committee, charges that Tufts testified falsely at the trial which resulted in his removal. It alleged also that he received part of a sum of $5,000 paid to Daniel H. Cookley, a Boston attorney, as a result of which it said criminal prosecutions in connection with a revel at Mishawam Manor, a roadhouse, were abandoned. In the latter case Tufts was charged with entering into a conspiracy with Cookley and others to extort the money from those present at the Woburn roadhouse.

The specifications in other respects follow the accusations made at the trial. His part in the surrender of Herman L. Barney, an escaped convict, was recited with the charge that he lied in a statement to the press regarding the apprehension and that he failed to render proper assistance to police authorities.

It was further charged that Tufts made a false registration as to the name of one Edward P. O'Halloran, then a police officer of Newton; that he failed to prosecute Thomas Mozzette, indicted for larceny of $10,000 from Justine Gordon and was, therefore, guilty of dereliction of duty; that he

Under Civil Service

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Employees in the several registries of probate in this state have been placed under the civil service, by order of the civil service commission, and persons appointed to positions in any registry of probate, hereafter, must be taken from the civil service list.

This action by the commission follows the receipt of an opinion from Attorney General J. Westcott Allen, in which he pointed out that the civil service commission had the right to classify these positions, in view of the fact that the state has assumed the obligation of paying the salaries of the employees in each registry.

It is estimated that in the several registries a total of about 100 employees are affected by the change.

FUNERAL TODAY OF MRS. JOHN F. MEEHAN

Several elegants and many local and out-of-town friends and relatives attended the funeral of Mrs. Nellie Veronica (Little) Meehan, beloved wife of Postmaster John F. Meehan, which took place this morning from her home, 37 Arlington street. The long cortege, headed by an automobile filled with floral offerings, left the home of the deceased at 9 o'clock, and proceeded to St. Patrick's church, where at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Francis Keenan, assisted by Rev. Joseph A. Curran as deacon and Rev. Dr. James Sample as sub-deacon. Seated in the sanctuary were Rt. Rev. Mgr. William O'Brien, Rev. John J. Shaw, Rev. Francis J. Mullin, Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., Rev. James T. McDermott, O.M.I., Rev. William Kerwin, O.M.I., of Buffalo, N. Y., and Rev. William Dacey of the Boston cathedral.

An augmented choir under the direction of Michael J. Johnson, who also presided at the organ, rendered Gregorian chant, the solos being sustained by Miss Teresa Slattery, Miss Josephine J. Cronin, Warren P. Flordan and Charles T. Donohoe. Attending the funeral were relatives and friends from Boston, Providence, R. I., New York, Buffalo, N. Y., and Virginia. The ushers were Dr. Fred P. Murphy and Dr. Charles M. Roughan. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Keenan, assisted by Rev. Fr. Flynn, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. Curran and Rev. Fr. Dacey. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Francis Murphy, while burial was under the direction of Undertakers Higgins Bros.

The bearers were Humphrey O'Sullivan, John T. Gorman, Patrick Keyes, Cornelius J. Cronin, Warren P. Flordan and Charles T. Donohoe. Attending the funeral were relatives and friends from Boston, Providence, R. I., New York, Buffalo, N. Y., and Virginia. The ushers were Dr. Fred P. Murphy and Dr. Charles M. Roughan. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Keenan, assisted by Rev. Fr. Flynn, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. Curran and Rev. Fr. Dacey. ORDERS EXTRA SESSION

Superior Court Jury Waive to Sit in Cambridge on January 3

Chief Justice of Superior Court John Adams Aiken has ordered an extra session of the jury waive to sit at Cambridge starting Tuesday, Jan. 3, 1922. The order sent out is as follows: "There will be a five weeks' sitting of the court without juries at Cambridge beginning Tuesday, Jan. 3, 1922. The last day for marking will be Dec. 13, 1921."

The reason for this order being issued is to provide for a session without juries which will come between November and April in Cambridge and November and May in Lowell. According to the present calendar there would be no jury-waived session at Cambridge until April and none here until May.

The jury waive finished a session in Lowell but a short while ago and is not scheduled here until the fourth Monday of May. The regular February waive session at Cambridge was eliminated but this new session will take its place.

The present session of court sitting here with a jury will not be over until about Dec. 23. Much headway has been made and nearly 50 cases disposed of by trial. According to the calendar there is not another jury session listed for Lowell until the first Monday of April.

TO RESUME SCHOOL SESSIONS TOMORROW

That school sessions in the day schools are likely to be resumed tomorrow, and that in the evening schools there will be no sessions this week, is indicated in a statement made by Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, this morning. The statement follows:

"Unless there should be some unforeseen stormy weather, sessions of all the day schools will be resumed on Friday morning, but there will be no evening classes of the public schools. The classes announced by the Department of University Extension, to have their first meeting Friday evening, December 2, at the high school, will not be postponed; they will meet in the main building, entrance on Kirk street; these are the classes in Salesmanship and Business Law."

The city has passed through a period of great danger, and serious results so far have not been encountered; parents and teachers are urged to warn all children in their charge to be very careful in the streets and to avoid in every way coming in contact with any kind of loose or hanging wire, no matter how harmless it may appear to be."

Greenland was discovered and named by a Norseman about the end of the tenth century.

Triplets Must Wear the Colors

During the height of the storm, on Monday, the stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas at 70 Prince street, and left three little strangers. The triplets were christened later and were given the names of Raymond, Robert and Marcel. The resemblance of the three is so close that the mother has requested that each one be marked with a small ribbon on the wrist, Raymond wearing the white, Robert the blue and Marcel the red.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were married a year ago. Mr. Thomas is a native of this city and is employed as a chauffeur for a local coal dealer. Mrs. Thomas was born in Belgium but has been a resident of this city for several years. She informed The Sun man this morning, that had her triplets been born in Belgium, the king, as it is the custom in that country, would have acted as godfather for one of them and the crown would have presented the family with 250 francs.

MERGER OF BIG STEEL COMPANIES PLANNED

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Reports that a merger of seven or more of the independent steel companies is contemplated, were confirmed in the financial district today.

The proposed consolidation will take in all the leading producers and manufacturers with the exception of the Bethlehem Steel corporation and the Jones & Laughlin Co. of Pittsburgh.

The capitalization of the various companies concerned approximates $500,000,000, and their products cover almost every branch of the steel and iron industry. The companies named comprise the Midvale Steel & Ordnance Co.; the Republic Iron & Steel Co.; the Lackawanna Steel Co.; the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.; the Inland Steel Co.; the Brier Hill Steel Co. and the Steel & Tube Co. of America.

Reports of a consolidation have been current in the trade for more than a year.

This consolidation, if effected, will be second in importance to the United States Steel corporation, now the dominant organization in the industry.

The chief executive of one of the largest steel companies operating in the Ohio district today admitted that conferences were in progress for the purpose of consolidating the companies named.

Discussions have not proceeded beyond the general terms of the project. It was said, and the more important details of plant valuation would now be taken up.

Two groups of bankers have been called into consultation to take up the financial phases of the proposition. One is a house of international reputation and the other has recently been active in the flotation of industrial and utility securities.

ALTAR BOYS HONOR REV. FR. MURRAY

Rev. Stephen G. Murray, who left St. Margaret's church yesterday to enter the Tewksbury rectorate to prepare for entrance into the Oblate order, was tendered a testimonial by the altar boys of St. Margaret's on Tuesday evening and presented a handsome gold ever-sharp pencil. Francis J. McArdle made the presentation speech and Fr. Murray fittingly responded.

McDonough Sons.

WAS ENTOMBED IN MINE

Former Lowell Family—
Mr. Patenaude's Experience

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Nite Patenaude, formerly of this city and now of Britannia, B. C., the mining district, which a short time ago was visited by one of the most disastrous floods ever witnessed in that part of Canada, will be pleased to learn that they are safe and that their son, Francis Patenaude, is also alive after being entombed for eight days in what is known as the Upper camp in the mining region.

Mrs. Blanche Labrecque, of 53 Perkins street, Lawrence corporation, has received a letter from Mrs. Patenaude, her sister, informing her that although her home had been swept away and her husband were safe. In the course of the letter she relates the perilous adventure of her son, Francis, who with a companion by the name of Craig was buried in a cave-in and she tells how both remained underground for eight days without food or water. Patenaude finally succeeded in reaching the surface by climbing a 700 foot rope ladder and when he reached his destination he fell exhausted. He was immediately removed to his home but was taken the same night to an adjoining camp because the flood was threatening his home.

DEATHS

LIVSEY—Thomas J. Livsey, a well known resident of this city, passed away this morning at the isolation hospital after a lingering illness, at the age of 39 years. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Livsey; two daughters, Dorothea and Cecilia Livsey; one brother, James, and a sister, Mrs. William Flagg, all of this city. Mr. Livsey was a member of the Sacred Heart church, also a member of the Foresters. His home was at 65 Bowden street. His body was removed to Saunders' funeral home, 215 Appleton street. Funeral notice later.

COLEBURN—Lowell W. Coleburn, a well known resident of Dracut and one of the oldest citizens of that town, died yesterday at the Lowell General Hospital, aged 89 years and 7 months. Mr. Coleburn was born in Dracut and resided in Lowell for a short period. He was active in farm work until a short time ago and his property in the New Boston Village section is numbered among the prettiest residences and farm lands in this section. He leaves his wife, Alice E. Coleburn, and one son, Chester Coleburn. The body was removed to his home in Coleburn ave., New Boston Village, by Undertaker John A. Welch.

O'CONNOR—Patrick O'Connor for many years a resident of this city, died last night at the Chestnut Street hospital after a prolonged illness. He leaves no immediate relatives. The body was removed to the parlors of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

REQUIEM MASSES

O'CONNOR—There will be a month's mind mass on Saturday, Dec. 3, at 8:15 at the Sacred Heart church for the late William O'Connell. Requested by the HOLY NAME SOCIETY.

JOINT SUITS IN SUPERIOR COURT

Lowell Woman Brings Actions Against Street Railway and City

Sarah McLaughlin Seeks Compensation for Alleged Personal Injuries

A joint suit in which Sarah A. McLaughlin is the plaintiff, and the city of Lowell and the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway are the defendants, was started this morning in superior court before a jury with Judge E. B. Bishop on the bench. While the jury was empaneled yesterday afternoon, the case did not come to trial until this morning.

The plaintiff brings an action of tort, the ad damnum of which is $3,000, against each of the defendants to recover for alleged personal injuries alleged to have been sustained owing to an alleged defect in the car tracks and alleged defect in the highway.

While the cases are being tried together, it is probable one of the defendants will be eliminated and the whole attack made upon the remaining one. The reason for the double suit, it was stated, is to prevent a slip-up on technicalities.

In her declaration the plaintiff says that on the night of March 12, 1921, between 9 and 9:30 o'clock she had been walking on School street and while about to cross Broadway on the crosswalk she was thrown to the ground, the result of stumbling over a car track. She claims the rails of the car track were higher than the sidewalk to such an extent as to constitute a defect in the car track. In her declaration against the city she claims the defect was in the highway.

She further declares she had to spend large sums of money for doctors, nursing and other medical supplies.

The defendants' answers are general denials to each and every allegation and further state the injury was the result of negligence on the part of the plaintiff.

Atty. Kerwin is appearing for the plaintiff while Trull, Wier and O'Donoghue and City Solicitor William D. Hegan are for the defendants.

Gas Mantles

Three-quarters of a century ago the first locomotives that entered Lowell burned wood under their boilers. When first used, illuminating gas was burned in open-flame burners.

Wood fires under locomotive boilers and open-flame gas burners have both surrendered to advancing science.

World-wide progress in the art of illumination has resulted in the rapidly increasing use of GAS with MANTLE BURNERS.

The LOWELL GAS LIGHT COMPANY provides for its patrons gas of the finest quality known, both for heating and lighting purposes. Constant tests made under supervision of the Massachusetts Public Utilities Commission and publicly recorded at the State House demonstrate this fact.

By the use of MANTLE BURNERS, gas consumers will obtain illumination

5 TIMES THE LIGHT

Mantles may be purchased for a small sum at any department, hardware or plumbing store, at 5-and-10-cent stores, or at the Gas Appliance Store.

Today Lowell gas, thus used in the manner contemplated by Massachusetts laws and by the Massachusetts Public Utilities Commission, will insure the most economical and efficient lighting.

LIGHT WITH GAS MANTLES and secure for your homes this CHEAPEST, MOST RELIABLE and MOST BRILLIANT RADIANCE.
